French Cabinet Orders Study Of Allied Debt Problem

CAILLAUX AND BRIAND WILL TRY SOLUTION

Finance Minister Believes Problem Must Be Solved to Restore Credit.

Plan to Devote Part of Dawes Plan Reparation Receipts to Settlement

By Associated Press
Paris — Finance Minister Caillaux and Foreign Minister Briand were authorized by the French cabinet Friday to study the inter-allied debt question in an attempt to find an acceptable solution.

This decision of the cabinet was given out officially after a long discussion of the problem Friday morning and the delivery of opinions by both M. Caillaux and Briand on what they thought should be done.

Finance Minister Caillaux has expressed the view that the inter-allied debt problem must be solved to re-establish French credit, and he told the finance commission of the chamber of deputies on his recent appearance before it that part of the Dawes reparation plan receipts must be devoted to this purpose immediately, even though France was hard pressed for money.

START THIS MONTH

M. Briand, as foreign minister, is known to have been considering the debt question as part of his foreign policy and although his views have not been revealed, it was said recently in authoritative quarters that the negotiations for settlement of the debt to the United States would be resumed during the present month.

The American government has made it so clear that the negotiations, when they take place, will be in the hands of its debt funding commission, that it is felt the diplomatic exchanges must be made in Washington rather than in Paris.

M. Caillaux has not said exactly what proportion of the receipts under the Dawes plan France is willing to devote to the payment of her debts, but it has been suggested that half might be available. The Dawes plan for the coming fiscal year calls for the payment of 1,200,000,000 marks, of which the French share is 52 per cent.

ASK NO MORE

Washington — The one-half of 1 per cent amortization rate mentioned in Paris advices as mark for adjusting the principal of the French debt is the amortization rate granted the British government.

At the treasury Friday it was declared that certainly the American government would ask no higher rate of annual payment on the principal from France, and it was calculated that should France arrange such a basis, she would be committed to payment of about $22,000,000 as an annual installment on the total debt, in addition to interest.

The debt commission previously has made known that it recognizes no distinction between the loans to France for prosecution of the war and the $400,000,000 owed to the United States for supplies purchased after the war.

Most officials here are inclined to view the question of interest as governed largely by France's ability to pay.

Bryan Boomed By Students In Address On Evolution

Providence, R. I. — William J. Bryan, speaking in his campaign against the teaching of evolution, was booed and hissed by Brown university students Thursday night as he abruptly ended a question period, caustically assailed a student questioner, and left the hall.

After the student, George L. Cassidy, had stepped to the platform and repeated his question at the orator's request, Mr. Bryan remarked that the hour was late and added, "Ladies and gentlemen, I've come a long way to address you students of Brown university, but I shall certainly have to retire before this magnificent, bubbling fountain of wisdom on my right."

He left the stage amid hisses and boos. There was no applause. Only a short time previous the speaker had swayed his auditors with his emotional appeal for the protection of man's faith in God against the teachers of the doctrine that humanity has descended from the lower animals.

Before the brush with Cassidy, Mr. Bryan said, to another student, William G. Chase, "I am sorry for you and ashamed of you."

Chase, embarrassed, had answered, "no," when Mr. Bryan asked "Then you don't believe in the Bible?"

PROMISES TO LOVE, HONOR, BUT TRIPS ON PLEDGE TO OBEY

New York — Abby Rockefeller, who had the word "obey" omitted from her wedding ceremony Friday enjoyed the first day of the "real freedom" which she told her friends she expected when she married.

David Meriwether Milton, 25-year-old lawyer, and his bride, 21, are in seclusion until Saturday when they will sail on the liner Paris for a four months honeymoon in Europe.

"Love and honor" were enough for Abby to promise and the bridegroom consented to the deletion of "obey" from service.

Restricted because of the family's great wealth, the bride had eagerly awaited the day when she would be a young matron and the mistress of her own estate.

Policeman Faints When Son Is Freed of Murder in Waukegan Trial

By Associated Press
Waukegan, Ill. — Bernhard Mylin, and Edward J. Smith, Milwaukee, were sentenced each to 25 years imprisonment by the court, and Bernard Smith and Ralph McKee, Chicago, were acquitted Friday by the jury trying them for the murder of Russell Sage Dickey, express messenger in an attempted holdup of the Viking, Chicago and Northwestern railway express.

The jury deliberated nearly 12 hours before agreeing.

The prosecution had asked for death penalties for Mylin, who fired the shot that killed Dickey, and Edward Smith, and asked for a life sentence for Bernard Smith, former Chicago policeman, and a 25-year sentence for McKee, alleged go-between.

CALLED ACCIDENT

The defense insisted throughout that the shooting was accidental and that the accused thought the express messenger would assist them in their plan to rob the express car of a money shipment of more than $100,000.

The defendants were tried twice, the first jury disagreeing.

Attorneys for Mylin and Edward Smith made a motion for a new trial which was set for argument later. Bernard Smith and McKee were held in bonds on another pending indictment charging conspiracy to rob.

Sergeant Theodore C. Chicago policeman, father of Bernard, fainting when the verdict was announced but was soon revived. The mother of Edward Smith became hysterical.

WON'T QUASH CHARGE AGAINST KLAN DRAGON

By Associated Press
Indianapolis, Ind. — Judge James A. Collins in criminal court today overruled a motion to quash an indictment charging D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, with the murder of Kludge Oberholzer of Indianapolis.

Earl Klineck and Earl Gentry are charged with murder in the same indictment. Following the decision the three defendants waived arraignment and personally entered pleas of not guilty. Trial then was set by agreement to begin June 2.

CROSSED WIRES CAUSE PARISH SCHOOL FIRE

Kenosha — Fire, believed to have been caused by crossed wires, caused damage estimated at more than $25,000 at the new St. James parochial school here Thursday night. The flames broke out near the roof in the north wing, in which part of the building electricians had been working during the day; the roof of this wing was destroyed and much damage done by smoke and water to the entire interior. The building has been completely gutted. A few months ago at a cost of $160,000, in December 1923 the old St. James school burned to the ground.

Convict's Wife Testifies Davis Asked About Money

By Associated Press
Topeka, Kas. — The prosecution rested before noon Friday in the trial of Governor John J. Davis, charged with soliciting a bribe.

The former Kansas governor is accused of taking money in exchange for a pardon for Walter Grundy, convicted Hutchinson banker.

Mrs. Grundy, wife of the convict and the state's last witness, testified that when she requested Governor Davis on January 6 to free her husband, he asked her:

"Have you any money?"

Shortly after the prosecution rested, A. W. Harvey, head of defense attorneys, moved that "all testimony regarding conversations with Carl J. Peterson, bank commissioner under Davis, charged with having been the governor's agent in alleged bribe solicitation, be stricken from the record. Lawyers for both sides then retired with Judge James A. McClure to the latter's chamber to discuss the question.

In a long grilling of Oswald Thursday, counsel for Mr. Davis sought to show that he acted as a tool of political enemies of the former governor in a plot to offer money in exchange for the pardoning of Grundy.

The witness denied the insinuations, however. He declared he had entertained no thought of bribery until at a conference with the governor, he recalled rumors of bartering in executive clemency, and, in a fit of anger when Mr. Davis turned a deaf ear to his plea for his client, remarked: "Then the only thing for Grundy to do is to take the Peterson route."

Oswald related that Governor Davis then became friendly and took to the state bank commissioner Carl J. Peterson. The witness stated that Peterson asked $4,000 as the price for a pardon for Grundy, but later reduced the figure to $2,500, saying $1,500 would go to Governor Davis.

The intention was never carried out, although the attorney general's department was preparing to lay a trap for Peterson, the prosecution contends, because Russell G. Davis, son of the governor was caught meanwhile in receiving $1,250 for gaining a pardon for Fred W. Pollman, convicted banker.

PROFESSOR KILLS WIFE, CHILDREN AND HIMSELF

By Associated Press
New Orleans — The bodies of George W. Peckham, 49, professor of philosophy at Xavier college, his wife, Eleanor, 35, and their children, George, Jr., 2, and Elizabeth, were found in the bath room of the professor's apartment across from the college here Friday. Each had been shot through the left temple. The coroner returned a verdict of triple murder and suicide against the professor.

The discovery was made when Mrs. George W. Peckham arrived at the professor's apartment today coming from Milwaukee, in response to a telegram from her son saying he was ill and wanted to see her immediately.

WASN'T GUILTY OF IMMORAL CONDUCT, ATTORNEY ARGUES

Madison — Arthur W. Richter, Milwaukee attorney, argued through his lawyer, W. B. Rubin, in the supreme court Friday that there was no evidence of immorality in the records on which the court has brought disbarment proceedings against him. Richter asked that the proceedings be dismissed.

The court erred in drawing an inference of immoral conduct from Richter's defense in a suit brought by his former housekeeper for compensation for services that the services were rendered pursuant to an illegal contract, Rubin declared. He suggested that he court should permit evidence to be taken in the matter.

Richter told the court that when he set up the defense he had in mind services rendered pursuant to an agreement to marry the housekeeper, which he said was invalid and illegal because he was then married. This, he argued, was not immoral conduct.

FOREST FIRE PROBLEM IS GETTING SERIOUS

Madison — The forest fire situation in Marinette and other sections of northern Wisconsin is growing more serious, with clear warm weather, C. L. Harrington, superintendent of forests, had advised E. H. Hall, state conservation commissioner. Local control is possible, however, and all agencies are working he reported Thursday from Dunbar.

More than 500 men are fighting the fires in the northern part of the state, Mr. Hall said. The force at Dunbar number 206. Most of the fires apparently were caused by sparks from railroad locomotives, the commissioner said.

Eighteen fires were burning in the vicinity of Laramie Thursday, with 12 under control, William H. Clanson, a fire warden, reported.

EYE CHECK ON ARMS AS AID FOR TYRANTS

U. S. Delegation at Geneva Perplexed by Plan That Would Hinder Revolts

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C. — Are the existing governments in Latin-America and elsewhere to remain permanently in power, or are there some cases in which rebellion will some day be justified with America's power ranged on the side of dictatorship and tyranny?

This question which has always perplexed international jurists is not only troubling the American delegation to the Geneva conference on the control of the traffic in arms but it may trouble the administration here when the treaty now being drafted is ultimately presented to the United States for ratification.

SHUN REVOLT

Broadly speaking, all governments want to suppress insurrections, and all countries want to avoid internal strife but the expectation of arms to a troubled area sometimes means a successful revolution in a country in which progress has been blocked.

The United States government through its delegation at Geneva has indicated a desire for a free hand so that discretion might be used but the other delegations insist that arms be exported only to constituted governments or to governments that are recognized. In other words, if the United States wanted to assist the Irish republicans in the event that they should some day revolt against British sovereignty, the American government would first have to recognize the Irish republican regime before it would be permissible for private firms to export munitions to revolutionists.

HAVE AID WEAK

Similarly in Latin-America there have been cases in which the United States found it expedient to withhold all munitions from all warring factions, and there have been cases in which, without recognizing a government, it has aided weak.

LOSERS' INCOME

"It seems rather inconsistent that any one should attempt to condemn me for receiving some private income while devoting my most productive years to public service," Mr. Ekern stated after declaring that "my work for the state is continuously seriously diminishing my personal income." His communication was the first directed by him to the legislature in connection with what he declared were "repeated attacks in false and libelous statements" referring to recent letters made public by W. Stanley Smith, state insurance commissioner.

The communication is in part as follows:

"When bill Number 1758, to enact an insurance code, was before the senate committee of the whole on April 29, I attended the hearing at the request of senators, and by direction of the chairman of the committee I spoke on the bill.

"As well known to members of the legislature, I have been subjected to repeated attacks in false and libelous statements given to the public press. In the interests of not interrupting the orderly and regular work of the legislature or the state departments, I have ignored these attacks. The present statements, however, now indicate that these attacks have gone beyond all prior experience.

DENIES CHARGE

"I did not represent any insurance interests before the senate committee of the whole and in no case has the present commissioner of insurance made any request for any opinion, advice or assistance where such connection with any insurance interests has made it unethical or improper for me to act.

"A letter by W. Stanley Smith, commissioner of insurance, dated May 5, directed to me as attorney general, charged that there has been unreasonable delay and loss to policy holders in the handling of state of Wisconsin ex rel. Wisconsin inspection bureau et al. v. State of Wisconsin, commissioner of insurance, and this letter was given to the press. The fact is that there has been no unreasonable delay and no delay which was but necessary by reason of the pending of another action, and that there has been and can be no loss to policy holders arising out of this matter.

COMMON PRACTICE

"It has been the practice for attorneys general to continue connected with their private practice. Prior to my election as attorney general, my private law practice consisted in large part in acting as the general counsel for farmers and other mutual insurance companies throughout the United States, in addition to which my firm served as advisor of insurance companies generally.

MORE GROCERS IN PHONE FOR FOOD CAMPAIGN

Wholesale Association Expert
Urges Retailers to Line Up
With National Plan

More grocers of the Fox River valley signed up for the "phone for food" campaign of the National Wholesale Grocers association at a meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms Thursday evening. A delegation of about 25 from Oshkosh came here to hear a talk by Paul R. Trent, a field worker for the wholesalers. H. J. Ingold, president of S. C. Shannon company presided at the meeting.

Mr. Trent convinced many of the grocers in his talk that a thorough campaign of publicity would do for the grocery business what advertising had done for others. He declared that something must be done to keep the stores from increasing in number, with the consequent patronage for each dwindling.

Publicity is an effective way to create impressions, Mr. Trent said, and these impressions usually stay with the public. Posters, stickers, window cars, newspaper advertisements and other forms of advertising that help on the slogan, "phone for food," surely will have their effect, he said.

Illustrations of this truth were given by the speaker in the mention of such captions as "Save the surface and you save all," and the campaign of Indiana Limestone association, the sewer kraut packers association, the plate glass manufacturers and others. These products usually are not better than others but the people are so impressed by the publicity that they are taught to believe in and specify these products.

A number of those present signed up for the campaign. Advertisements will be carried in local newspapers. It was said, as soon as the response from the merchants showed sufficient interest.

KIND MOONSHINE HID UNDER PIGPEN FLOOR

Stevens Point — Using sledgeshammers, Underberritt John H. Johnson and three deputies broke away a cement floor in a pigsty near the Steve Spangl saloon at Mill Creek and seized two five-gallon jugs of moonshine discovered so deeply imbedded that only the cork protruded.

Spangl pleaded guilty to possession and was fined $200. Dist. Atty. W. E. Atwell is now demanding forfeiture of bonds of $500 put up for Spangl a week ago after a similar charge had been placed against him.

Armed with brooms and sledges, the raiders swept the entire basement floor of the Spangl saloon and then swept and scoured every inch of the floor in a storeroom near the saloon without finding anything. The search was continued to the pigsty with better success. The jugs had been planted in such a manner that their contents could be siphoned out.

FIND LIQUOR ON SEVEN OF EIGHT BARS RAIDED

Fond du Lac — Three state prohibition inspectors, led by Sheriff Briggs, raided eight licensed soft drink establishments in Fond du Lac county Wednesday night, finding liquor in seven of them.

The raiders first swept down on the Arnold Becher saloon in the village of Eden. There they found two bottles said to contain moonshine. From Eden the officers sped to Garretts in Calumet township, where they raided the place of Ernest N. Nelson and found some alleged moonshine.

Swinging back 20 miles, the officers went into the village of Oak Center, where they raided the E. F. Capella place. The William Collier saloon at Oak Center came next.

The officers then came back to the city and drove to the Badger Gardens on the Oshkosh road, just a few miles from the city. Here samples of alleged liquor were taken. Arrests as a result of the raids will be made by state officers, according to the sheriff.

Desiring that its 1926 show be much bigger as to number of birds entered than ever, before, the board of directors of Fox River Poultry and Pet Stock association voted at a meeting in the George Loos store Thursday evening to add about $200 to the prizes.

It is believed that a revision of the system of awarding prizes will bring in more extensive entries of poultry and the board will work out its plans along that line. The amount of prizes formerly given was two to three hundred dollars and the total under the new plan probably will reach $500.

Preparation of the catalog for the next show is to be started soon, and will include the revised premium list.

CAN'T APPLY CITY LAW TO PARKERS AT CAPITAL

Madison — The driveways around the state capitol are state property and persons not complying with the traffic ordinances of the city of Madison relative to lights, speed and parking, cannot be arrested by Madison police officers. Atty. Gen. Herman L. Ekern rules in an opinion given for the Wisconsin assembly.

The assembly asked for an opinion after Norman Berggren, assembly photographer, had been arrested by a Madison policeman for failure to have a parking light on his automobile after 11 p. m., as required by city ordinance.

While Atty. Gen. Ekern was not asked to rule upon any other portions of the state property, it is believed that the same rule would apply to driveways on the University of Wisconsin campus and to the parking areas on the capitol side of the streets bounding the capitol square.

ZEB SETS FASHION PACE FOR APPLETON MEN BUT HE SAYS WIFE MADE HIM DO IT

THIS being "straw hat day" the Inquiring Reporter interviewed Mr. Zebediah Gimpfuz on what he thought of the straw sky-piece as against a felt dome case.

"Well," squeaked Mr. Gimpfuz in a voice six octaves above Caruso's highest, "it's like this: Last Sunday the Misus was acting restless like, 'I know something was coming. First she petty larned the funny page and then she yanked the sport section out of my hand.'

"Zeb," says she, 'Don't you think the moth balls has worked hard enough this winter? Ain't it about time you was taking your straw hat out and treating it to a little air?'

"I never did like a one-sided argument, and besides I like my old felt hat well enough to try and save it from the ash can. So I said: 'You win. From May 15 on my hat'll be at half mast in memory of the death of what's left of my rights.'

With this his weak chin gave an imitation of Gilda Gray at her salmiest (note chin possibilities, in photo.) Also he plucked at his mustache which, as you will note, circumnavigates his upper lip at three points south by west.

"Shh—You won't print it so the madam can see it will ya?" and there was such an appeal in his eye as I have seen only in that of a frightened deer. "But I hate the darn straw beanie. It's too stiff, but the frau has an idea I should be fashionable."

HEALTH OFFICERS DENY CONTAGION SPREAD HERE

Rumors of the spread to Appleton of the smallpox epidemic reported in several cities throughout the state were declared unfounded Friday by Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer. There is only one case of smallpox in the city at present, Mr. Sanders said. There are three cases of chickenpox, three of diphtheria and three of whooping cough. Cultures taken from the throat of one of the diphtheria cases were found negative Thursday, and the patient probably will be dismissed Friday or Saturday, according to the deputy health officer. Comparison of the condition of Appleton with those of other cities in the state in regard to contagious diseases shows this city to be very fortunate in that regard. Milwaukee and Madison report unusually numerous cases of smallpox, and it is feared this disease may spread to other cities in the southern part of Wisconsin.

M. Spencer ordered a new trial for Glasheen and the new hearing will start in municipal court on Monday. The case was left open at the end of the first trial. A jury was to be drawn Friday afternoon or Saturday.

Glasheen who was treasurer of the school district, was found guilty of taking over $300 from the funds in February. He pleaded that he had often taken small amounts with the knowledge of members of the school board and later returned the money. He had not taken the money to defraud the school or keep for himself, he said. However, his crops had been a failure and he had had a mortgage due on his farm and so did not have

CHURCHES ASK U. S. TO ABANDON AUSTRALIA TRIP

Congregational Convention at New London Passes Resolution to Stop War

Contending that relations with Japan would be further strained, the 56 Congregational churches of the Winnebago and Northwestern associations which met at New London last week adopted resolutions which request the United States government to abandon the proposed visit of the American fleet to Australia.

Another plea was made to the president in the resolution to have this nation work for the outlawry of war and for establishment of the world court. The denomination has taken a frigid stand in the last year on matters concerning world peace.

The resolution is to be sent to President Coolidge and each of the Wisconsin senators. It reads:

"Resolved: That this convention, representing the 56 Congregational churches of the Winnebago and Northwestern associations of Wisconsin with a membership of more than 8,000, reaffirms its intense and increasing interest in the movement for world peace;

"That we welcome the introduction of lesson courses on world peace in our Sunday schools and public schools and urge their enlargement and extension;

"That, while enlisted in other great movements working toward the abolition of war, we especially urge upon our senators and our government the three following courses of action—

"First, that our government advance in every possible way the growing movement for the legalized outlawry of war;

"Second, that America join without delay in full participation in the world court;

"Third, that proposal to have American fleet visit Australia this summer be forthwith abandoned. The recent Japanese exclusion law and the British plan to build a great naval base at Singapore have already strained the friendly relations between the white and yellow races living around the Pacific, and we believe that to send a fleet now to Australia would provoke suspicion and the war spirit."

BALLARD WARS ON CARNIVALS

Declares Street Attractions
Consist Largely of Fakers and Gamblers

C. B. Ballard, Appleton, state treasury agent, is in accord with the Appleton chamber of commerce movement to keep the community free of carnivals.

Appealing for help from the "fathers and mothers of Wisconsin" as well as local officials, Mr. Ballard in a formal statement charges that a number of the carnivals consist "principally of fakery, sure-thing gamblers, pickpockets, bootleggers and immoral women."

"Let us serve notice on the owners or managers of such shows that no show harboring swindlers and lewd women can exploit and victimize the people in any community," he said. "I have been advised that in some cases this permission and license to rob and debauch a community is bought and paid for, and is frequently forced on showmen by local fixers and crooked politicians."

Under the law, the treasury agent stated, no circus or carnival can operate in Wisconsin without first obtaining a state license for which they pay $100.

"I have no right to grant a license to any one to operate gambling and immoral shows," he continued. "I have asked for an amendment to the present law that gives the treasury agent the right to revoke a license if the manager or agent of the show permits such concession to operate."

CROP GROWTH HALTED BY FROSTY-WEATHER

Crops are making slow growth because of cold weather and lack of rain, according to the weekly synopsis of weather and crop conditions issued by the state department of agriculture. In spite of the cold nights there was no damage from frost, the report states.

Here is the weekly synopsis: "Dry, cool, frosty weather prevailed during the greater part of the week. This was unfavorable for vegetation. The season as regards growth has lost its early start and is now about normal. Severe frost damage to strawberries and early truck in some low places was reported. Some tree fruits were injured in southern and western counties. Oats, barley, and spring wheat are up in most sections. They are growing slowly and need rain generally. Rice and winter wheat are in fair to good condition but making slow growth. Corn planting has begun in some southern and western counties. Most farmers, however, are waiting for warmer weather before planting. Meadows and pastures are rather short. Some stock are grazing. Early potatoes, peas, truck sugar beets, and tobacco in beds are mostly planted. Some are up and mostly looking well, although they are not showing much growth. Fruit trees are blooming profusely in southern and western counties near the lakes. Cranberry bogs were flooded most of the week. There were no reports of damage to vines from the frost."

ANOTHER MADISON SCANDAL

Now we have a fresh scandal at Madison. Few administrations have had so many troubles of this kind to air as that which has been in power the last three years. There has been constant factional quarreling among the so-called Progressives, which in a broad sense can be divided into those La Follette followers who support Blaine and those La Follette men who oppose him. The fight has been within the Progressive party itself. At various times the governor has been under fire by the secretary of the treasury or the secretary of state; also, by the highway department and various other branches of his own administration.

The latest outbreak is an attack upon the attorney-general, Mr. Ekern, who is charged by the state insurance commissioner, W. Stanley Smith, with serious breaches of his official trust. If the charges against Mr. Ekern are true he would not only be disqualified in the sense set up by the insurance commission, but he would be unfit to serve as attorney-general. On the other hand, if the accusations by Mr. Smith are true, he is unfit as insurance commissioner and a similar implication would rest against Governor Blaine. Inasmuch as Smith is an appointee of the governor it is hardly likely he prepared his charges against Mr. Ekern without consulting his superior, and it is to be presumed these had Mr. Blaine's approval and that he supports them. If these assumptions are incorrect, then it would be up to the governor to repudiate Mr. Smith, remove him from office and acknowledge that a wrong has been done the attorney-general. However we review the matter, it is a bad mess, and someone is in wrong in a scandal that forces his right to the occupancy of the public trust.

A full and immediate investigation by the legislature, free from biased political control, is demanded in the interest of clean government. There is much speculation as to the significance of this attack on the attorney general, since it is made by an appointee of Governor Blaine and with the natural inference that it has his approval. There are some political observers at Madison who believe this marks the beginning of a final break between the Blaine and La Follette forces, since Ekern is the closest and most "official" representative of La Follette in the state. To a disinterested observer it looks as though the spoils and expectations from political power at Madison were too much for the cause of reform, and that the fighting among the leaders promises no good to the Progressive cause.

TROTSKY'S RETURN

Trotsky, the man upon whom Lenin intended his mantle should fall as the dictator of soviet Russia, has returned to Moscow after the conclusion of a second exile, heralded to the world as a health cure. There is wide speculation as to the place Trotsky will fill in the new government. His reception at Moscow, and in fact all the way in from his retreat, was cold and indifferent. There was no one to meet him in Moscow but a few reporters. His entrance occasioned no demonstration either friendly or hostile.

Trotsky's opponent in the triumvirate of Russia is Zinovieff, head of the communist international. Just at this moment the communist international is not thriving. This fact at least is in favor of Trotsky's regaining some of his lost influence in Russian affairs. The elections in Great Britain and Germany, especially the latter, were a heavy blow to the spread of communism internationally. In both countries communism made but the puniest showing. Propaganda in these countries, at a cost of millions of dollars, seems to have gone for little or nothing. France has also administered a severe repulse to communism in the recent governmental changes there.

This is not only repressive of the program of the Third Internationale, but it reflects the failure of soviet diplomacy to reestablish commercial and political relations with the great powers, so essential to the economic relief of Russia. The Third Internationale not only has a cipher to its credit for its own achievements, but it has spoiled the efforts of the soviet to obtain recognition from Great Britain and the United States, and a satisfactory trading agreement with France.

There is plenty for Trotsky to do if he is given the opportunity. There is some talk of making him a successor to Krassin in the department of foreign trade, in the hope that he may find a way to surmount the obstacles to commerce and exploitation of Russian resources raised by the Third Internationale.

There are internal complications as well as external. In domestic policies Trotsky is at variance with much that has taken place both before and since Lenin's death. He believes that the failure of nationalized industry could have been obviated and he also opposes concessions to capitalism. We may look for some important developments in connection with Trotsky's return to Moscow and whether for or against a restoration of his influence, they will be equally significant.

THE PROPER COURSE

There is considerable discussion of President Coolidge's failure to send a congratulatory message to von Hindenburg, the new president of Germany. It appears that this is a custom wholly within the discretion of the president, and that an omission to congratulate is not to be taken as an unfriendly act. In the case of Hindenburg, however, we would imagine that the omission was deliberate. This would not imply that it was unfriendly, for there is no reason to believe that the administration is in any sense hostile to the new government of Germany, but on the contrary is favorably and hopefully disposed toward it.

Reports from Washington indicate that President Coolidge is inclined to the view that a congratulatory message might put the attitude of this nation toward the monarchists, or the forces in Germany which elected Hindenburg, in a false light. This he wishes to avoid, and properly so. Furthermore, Hindenburg is charged with acts that are listed as war criminal under the Versailles treaty.

Finally, it is not yet disclosed to what extent the old junker element is to control the policies of the new administration, or whether the government will approve the carrying out of the Dawes reparations agreement and the treaty obligations of Germany in good faith. Since the Dawes plan is a semi-official creation of the United States, we are interested in having it respected and carried through. We also expect from Germany a discharge of those obligations to the allies which she has accepted. Under all the circumstances we think the president has used good judgment and discretion in the course he has taken.

LETTER HIM

The best little tonic that man ever knew is one that is always ready handy for you: It leads to good feeling, so never a good tip—whenever you feel like a lousy letter.

There's plenty of trouble that's floating around, and when it's looked for, can always be found. The thing that we all ought to aim to turn down is all of the laughter that we can produce. You must follow him in the work of your day; they know and they soon have you laughing. Not the pleasure of someone that people expect is something that really is catching, I guess.

So try, every day, to give cheer to a friend by laughing; you'll find it reacts in the end. Your life can be made a real happiness trip if you'll give way to pleasure and let the laughter rip.

Recent statistics indicate the Indians built up a great civilization before realizing it wasn't much fun.

In the future we will be careful about what we want. We are usually to get it.

But he makes a great mistake, which he will realize, when he thinks that a man can make a fortune out of the things that are given to him.

What is the use of a man who can make a fortune out of the things that are given to him? He is just a man who is lucky.

SLIM IN THE WAIST

We set out the other day to tell a million fat folks how to contract the stomach. We told 'em, too, but rather by suggestion than in so many words. Just about a million fat folks have written in for the detailed directions, and a good many of them declare they don't wear corsets at all, any more, or else they never have worn any such contraption. Quite a few of these who have never worn abdominal splints or supporters are of the sex that once wore suspenders as a matter of fashion and custom, but today wear them as a matter of necessity and safety. In the article where we thought we suggested how to contract the stomach we introduced the subject of intra-abdominal pressure and its relation to the tone or vigor of the muscles of the belly (front wall of the abdomen). We pointed out practices or customs which diminish the tone of the belly muscles and consequently lower intra-abdominal pressure. And having said that much we called it a day and went out to oil the clutch or weed the onions. But the mailman gives us no peace.

Just as flabbiness or softness or any weakness of the belly muscles lowers the pressure or tension maintained within the abdominal cavity and favors overeating to attain that sense of fullness of the stomach which we instinctively desire so the better tone or vigor of these muscles which comes from proper exercise increases the intra-abdominal tension and enables one to arrive at the state of satisfaction when the stomach is just moderately filled with food. Now, even though you are very fat indeed, it ought to be clear to you that slimness of the waist is to be cultivated by exercise.

Some good physical educators doubt whether any special exercises which particularly bring the muscles of the front or back wall of the abdomen into play are more valuable or even as valuable as general exercise which gives all the muscles a fair amount of work. This is a technical question, it seems that many individuals have been able to train down large waists and at the same time gain better control over large appetites, by just doing some special abdominal exercises every day. Of course special abdominal exercises are just as good exercise as are any other special exercises such as walking on the turned toes to strengthen foot arches or humming to improve poor hearing. There can be little doubt that the custom of wearing corsets or similar constricting or supporting appliances has much to do with the conventional proportions of the dowager. I believe the recent corset less fad has something to do with the renaissance of the slim waist.

All of the horizontal movements of the second Brady symphony tend to increase intra-abdominal tension and favor a slender figure. Some of the vertical movements do so as well. But the symphony is not a reduction method.

Here are a few special exercises for the abdominal muscles, both the muscles of the belly and the muscles of the rear wall of the abdomen—lumbar muscles:

1. Lie supine and slowly raise one leg to vertical, then slowly lower it to the ground. Repeat this cycle five to ten times. Then repeat with the other leg. After a few weeks, raise both legs together, but not over 20 times at a session.

2. Lie supine, feet under a chair or heavy pulley. Rise to sitting posture and down again. Repeat from five to 20 times.

Stand erect, stretch arms high over head, bend as low as possible, striving to touch the floor with out bending knees, from five to 20 times.

Dot-Dash-Dave

We have just come across an item in which a scientist tells us that the ordinary housefly makes 320 wing beats in a second, but what we want to know is this: If he had it where he could count its wing beats, why in the name of our illustrious forefathers didn't he swat it? Get in one vigorous wing beat yourself while it is making the 320. And be sure that you don't beat the wind only.

While we were pounding away at our mill the other day something of colossal importance was taking place in Jones park without our knowledge. The next day the sport page started us with the pretense that the Post-Crescent devoted the Chair. For the least fraction of a moment we thought they might have been the "chairs" of Shesbogan. On sober reflection we know that they were the easy chairs of Appleton.

FOOT FITTERS BOOT

BANKERS IN BALL GAME

The foregoing headline of Dot-Dash-Dave's has great possibilities. How realistic would be such headlines as these:

"Post-Crescents Sit On Chairs."

"Earliest Trim Post Fitters."

"T. H. C. A. C. In On Bankers."

"Meyer-Press Flattens Post-Crescents."

"Foot Fitters Lutsqueeze Bankers in Tight Game."

News Item: "Woman disappointed in card game strikes husband with a poker."

"A game of draw poker as it were. The husband draws a hand that beats his wife at poker."

And the wife draws a poker that beats her husband.

Here's a little secret that we're going to let you in on. Dot-Dash-Dave is getting himself a new car. We meant to say another car. We expect him soon to make some new dashes, but at the same time we hope he won't dot the landscape.

"An extremely false and unjust impression prevails, rather widely, we fear, as to the ethics of the newspaper profession, but the real fact is that in this old ballad of liberty, or, in other words, absolutely no intention of flying is done except in the ordinary column and the review of amateur theatrical performances."

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Though Italy is anxious to help France and Spain put down the native rebellion in Morocco, it isn't that she cares a hoot about doing either of them any good. Spain would like her help, nevertheless. Spain needs all of any kind of help she can get. France, however, doesn't want Italy butting in.

The secret is that Italy aims at getting North Africa remapped, with more territory for herself. Anything she gets will be at France's expense. She thinks this a good time, with Abdel-Krim's rebellion going on, to put her program through. England is said to be backing the Italian demand for shares in the campaign.

France is saying "no" as hard as she can. The situation offers possibilities of a bad international mess.

The French and Italians differ over North Africa but they're agreed in wanting no more war in the Balkans at present. So are the British.

Accordingly, as a row seemed to be brewing between Jug-Slavia and Bulgaria, the British, French, Italian and American ministers—the two American houses—met in Sofia in Belgrade and Sofia called on the Jug-Slavian and Bulgarian governments and told them they'd have to watch up their differences peacefully for the big powers wouldn't permit them to quarrel just now. The two governments promptly simmered down and there won't be any trouble.

It would be nice if there were some still blazer covers to talk this way to England, France, Italy, the United States et al. when they get to fighting.

Leon Trotsky, after several months of virtual banishment from the center of soviet affairs in Moscow, is back again, to accept a fresh job under the government. According to reports from Russia—which isn't a very reliable news source—Trotsky lost his post as war minister because the soviet leaders considered he was coming too conservative and is being committed to favor on his promise to be good in future.

COMMON HOUSEHOLD MEDICINES

Otherwise known as "simples" have for centuries been derived from medicinal roots and herbs. They are still used and recognized by many of our best physicians as unequalled for certain ailments. In many countries roots and herbs are cultivated purely for commercial purposes. It is said that the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass., is the greatest user of crude herbs in this country. The success of their Vegetable Compound for ailments of women is now world-wide, and it will certainly pay any woman who suffers from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try it.

COMMON HOUSEHOLD MEDICINES

Otherwise known as "simples" have for centuries been derived from medicinal roots and herbs. They are still used and recognized by many of our best physicians as unequalled for certain ailments. In many countries roots and herbs are cultivated purely for commercial purposes. It is said that the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass., is the greatest user of crude herbs in this country. The success of their Vegetable Compound for ailments of women is now world-wide, and it will certainly pay any woman who suffers from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try it.

Club Starts Season With Dinner Dance

Riverview Country club will have its first dinner dance of the season at 6:30 Saturday evening in the clubhouse. The advanced season has made it possible to open the club two weeks earlier than usual this year. Meliorinda orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

The plan for managing the club has been changed for this summer. Formerly it was the custom to have one of the women members of the club as head of the house committee which governed the meal end of the club. However, the task was an onerous one, and the directors decided to divide the work. An advisory committee of three members has therefore been appointed, and includes Mrs. Joseph Thomas, Appleton, Mrs. E. L. Brooks, Appleton, and Mrs. Harry Dabcock, Neenah. The committee will supervise the planning of meals, and will take care of any problems arising.

Mrs. S. N. Harrison will again be hostess at the club. Mrs. August Horn will be cateress.

HOLD CAKE SALE

The Beaver troop of Girl scouts will give a cake sale at 8:30 Saturday morning in Bellins drug store. Miss Lona Drachman, who is captain of the troop, is in charge of the sale. The proceeds will be used for the camp fund.

NEW SCHOOLS TO BE READY IN AUGUST

Both new junior high schools will be fully equipped on or before August 1, according to the belief of Mr. H. Small, principal of the Wilson school, although the contracts "provided for a later date. The first of the equipment arrived here several days, and the schools are ready to begin the installation of materials," Mr. Small said. They have not yet been turned over to the city by the contractors, however, and this step will be attempted as soon as possible.

Equipment contracts were made with the city and the schools last week, and material of the factories have sent notice that their products are in the finishing rooms, undergoing the last stages of preparation for shipment.

"The trend of the age is shown by the fact that the first equipment to be used here has been the two moving picture machines ordered for the science departments."

TRY DOCTOR AT WAUPACA FOR DEATH OF GIRL

Jury Is Chosen as Case of Dr.
H. Fleischer of Clintonville
Opens

Special to Post-Crescent.
Waupaca—Trial of Dr. H. Fleischer of Clintonville, charged with second degree manslaughter, has been started before Judge Byron B. Parks in circuit court here. His arrest followed the preferring of charges by the father of a Clintonville young woman who died following what is alleged to have been an illegal operation. A bitter fight is expected to develop as the case proceeds.

Otto L. Olsen, district attorney, appearing for the state, will have the assistance of Attorney B. R. Goggin of Wisconsin Rapids, in the prosecution. The defense has engaged Attorney Louis Sawyer of Milwaukee.

Two hours' time was required in the selection of the jury, which was chosen from the same panel as in previous cases. Those selected are: Edith Pavell, A. W. Piche, Nora Hiddle, Amelia Rasmussen, Anna Melby, Robert Zemple, Minnie Johnson, Edwin Sader, Blanch Linn, Steve Carroll and Herbert Jensen.

Cases in circuit court are being disposed of in rapid succession. Wednesday three jury cases were completed with the court in session until 10:45 at night. The first case completed was that pertaining to the partridge of the child of Amelia Smith of Clintonville. A charge that George Sprenger of Clintonville was its father was confirmed by the jury sitting in the case, when it returned a verdict of guilty. Dr. H. Fleischer of the court Sprenger to pay for the support of the child until maturity, in addition to the cost of the proceedings. It has been figured that not less than $4,000 is what the defendant will be required to pay if the child lives to maturity. Otto L. Olsen, the district attorney handled the state's case and Mr. and Mrs. Brunner, attorneys from Clintonville, represented the defendant, Sprenger.

The next case on the docket was that of the state vs. Charles Springer of Weyauwega, charged with illegal hunting. Mr. Springer and Melvin Smith also of Weyauwega, were caught by two game wardens, F. D. Randall and O. Larson of Iowa, shooting ducks after sunset last fall on the Girls Landing marsh. Smith was tried in justice court. Smith was acquitted but Springer was found guilty and fined. This case in circuit court was the result of an appeal from justice court. The jury under the verdict of the lower court and Springer will appear before Judge Parks on Monday and receive the sentence of the court.

Nothing Draws Boys Like Scouting Plan Used Here

The value of having a fulltime executive in charge of boy scout work has been demonstrated in Appleton since P. O. Keicher took over this work last summer and organized Valley council, Boy Scouts of America. There are now about 150 boys in Appleton belonging to thoroughly active troops, and several new groups are about to be organized.

This is quite a contrast to a year ago when two or three troops were operating in a limp fashion with what help and facilities were within reach of the scoutmasters. Interest in the work not only has been revived but boy scout membership is a subject on the mind of almost every boy and the youngsters count the days until they are old enough to enroll.

Six troops are active in Appleton now and holding meetings regularly every week. Most of these are registered with the scout headquarters in New York and others have made application for registry. The churches are sponsoring most of the troops but the American legion has established one on a citywide basis.

M. E. Church has troop.

Troop No. 2, First Methodist church, has 18 boys enrolled and is in charge of Dr. G. W. Carlson as scoutmaster. Douglas and Donald Hyde, assistant scoutmasters, and Henry J. Pettigrew, drill instructor.

Troop No. 1, organized by Oney Johnston post of the American legion, has 21 boys attending and all of these are expected to enroll as soon as they qualify as scouts. Meetings are held each Friday evening at the high school.

All Saints church is sponsor to troop No. 5, which has 17 boys on its roll and prospects of a big increase within the next few weeks. William Wallace is the scoutmaster and Ray A. Sabat, the assistant.

Perhaps the largest membership in the city is that of troop No. 6, St. Mary church, where 40 boys are active in learning the life of a boy scout. Father William Kernan is the scoutmaster. He has a staff of assistants composed of six who formerly were boy scouts and were made associates of the troop so they can assist in the training.

Another flourishing troop is No. 8 of the First Congregational church, headed by C. W. Gross as scoutmaster. His assistants are Harry B. Leith and William Meyer. The membership now is 35. This troop has been in existence for many years and is enjoying its biggest success this season.

Interest is growing steadily in the boy scout troop of Trinity Lutheran church. Harry Cameron has been appointed scoutmaster and has 12 boys who form the nucleus of what is expected to be one of the larger troops.

These troops represent only the start of what can be done in Appleton with boy scout work. Mr. Keicher says. There would be double the number of troops if there were leaders for them.

Age boys need only the invitation and they will join the movement. Normal Freshwater church is doing the foundations for a troop and will call its boys to a meeting as soon as the man who is to be its scoutmaster returns from a trip.

St. Joseph and Sacred Heart churches also are giving their support to the movement and will have troops following the visit here of Brother Barnabas and the establishment of a school for training leaders.

Work that has been done in the last year is an indication of how scouting can be built up here, the executive says, providing there is good support on the part of the public. The extent to which boys can be trained in manliness, health, recreation, outdoor, life, discipline and other character building factors depends entirely on the amount of money the parents and others will invest in the movement.

GRANTS AUTONOMY

Have—The French government has granted autonomy to the port of Havre. The action provides that all improvements and other dispositions respecting the port need no longer have the approval of the ministry of public works. The control of harbor construction and similar operations will henceforth be under the direct control of the Chamber of Commerce of Havre and a board appointed by the government.

in This Vicinity

"It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cured rheumatism or have only occasional twinges," says James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y. "I know that Allenhu, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints."

"I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenhu made a well, robust, healthy man of me."

"I know because since I cured myself, hundreds have taken Allenhu and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease."

Allenhu is no laggard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

SHOW TROPHIES AS PROOF OF H. S.

PUPILS' PROWESS

Shelf Full of Cups and Medals
Attest Ability of Students in Competition

Kaukauna—Evidence of Kaukauna high school's participation in competitive events during the term is on display in the window of the school building. The trophies and medals which the school has won in various contests during the year have been taken part in more efforts than ever before and their efforts have been crowned with success.

The outstanding trophy is a silver loving cup which was presented to Joseph "Dooty" Savorgnan on May 8 at Oshkosh as winner of first place in the district oratorical contest and who will represent the school in the state contest the latter part of this month. This will be the first time in at least nine years that the high school has won a trophy in a state speaking contest. At that time a local girl was awarded first place in declamation.

Opposite Savorgnan's trophy is a handsome silver loving cup with gold bands which was won by the school in the state trophy which will be awarded at the end of this term to the person who is judged by the faculty as the best all-around student. Interest and participation in extra curricular events, scholarship and general attitude in school are taken into consideration. Although any student is eligible for the prize it has thus far been awarded only to seniors.

Between the two cups is a board upon which are displayed medals won by other students. One is a silver medal about two inches square which was presented to Edna Sager, winner of second place in the Oshkosh district declamatory contest. Another is a bronze medal awarded to Roy Darling who received third place in the district extemporaneous speaking contest at Oshkosh. An attractive gold pin about the size of a dime is the prize of Marion Vandenberg for efficiency in typewriting. Miss Vandenberg operated her typewriter at the rate of 60 words a minute to win the prize.

Still another trophy is displayed, which, however, was won by Nicolet school in the music memory contest. It is a bronze plate in the shape of a shield mounted on a wood base of the same shape. On it are engraved the words "Music Memory Contest, 1925, Nicolet school, Awarded by National Bureau for the Advancement of Music."

LOSES COWS ON REPLEVIN BUT GETS THEM BACK

Family Quarrel Paves Way for Suit in Municipal Court Here

A family quarrel that exceeded the usual bounds of such matters and got outside of the family was developed in a hearing of a replevin action in the case of Joslin W. Southard vs. William Werth, and John Schinke in municipal court Thursday morning.

Southard demanded the return of five cows, a horse, and a buggy valued at $250 from the defendants and the court upheld him in his action.

Werth, who owned the cows, had sold them to his son, Louis, at an auction. Louis moved to Waupaca and, taking the cows with him, sold them to Southard. A brother-in-law of Louis desired to rent the farm from the father and asked for the cows. The brother-in-law stated that as Louis had not completed payment on the animals, the father could get them back.

Finding the cows sold to Southard, William Werth got a writ of replevin from the town constable and took them from the plaintiff, who immediately retaliated with a writ of his own to get them back. The court ended the battle of replevin in favor of Southard.

ACCIDENT VICTIM, MINUS EYE, LEAVES HOSPITAL

Nye Schwabe, New London youth who narrowly escaped death in an automobile accident near Hortonville in which his companion, Jerome Steffen was fatally injured, was released from St. Elizabeth hospital Wednesday and returned to his home.

The accident occurred about Feb. 20. Steffen died soon after. But Schwabe, although he suffered a broken leg and arm and severe bruises, contusions and gashes about the head and body, began to recover after several days in the hospital. Later it was found necessary to remove one of his eyes which had been pierced by splinters of his cheekbone which had been broken in the accident, but from them on the young man recovered steadily.

LAWRENCE GRADUATES PLAN FOR ALUMNI DAY

Lawrence College Alumni day will be observed on Saturday, June 6, this year. Plans for the program are not completed, but the general scheme will be similar to that of other years. Luncheon will be served at noon, followed by the annual business meeting. The special business to come up includes a new constitution, and the presentation of a picture of Miss Zella Anne Smith to Lawrence college. This picture is to be a gift from the alumnae to the college. Initiation of the graduating class also will take place at the business meeting.

A banquet will be held Saturday evening, at which the senior class will be present.

VETERAN ACTORS IN LEADING ROLES OF SENIOR CLASS PLAY

EUGENE COLE

EVELYN LONG

The two leading parts in the annual Appleton high school senior class play "His Majesty, Bunker Bean" will be taken by Evelyn Long, who will be the flapper, and Eugene Cole, who is Bunker Bean. The play, which is a four act farce-comedy by Lee Wilson Dodd, is to be presented at 8:20 Tuesday evening, May 25, in Fishers Appleton theater. Miss Ruth McKennan, dramatic coach, is directing the production.

Miss Long took a prominent part in the junior play "A Full House" presented last year. She also played "Top O' My Thumb" which was given last year by the students of Miss McKennan's advanced dramatic class.

Her part in the senior play is that of a flirty, slightly romantic girl who finally succeeds in getting Bunker Bean entangled in her meshes.

Eugene Cole took one of the principal parts in "The Full House," and the leading role in "A Nautical Knot," which was presented by the glee club this year. He also played in the De Molay play, "Nothing but the Truth," which was given last winter.

Prof. McHarg Outlines Automobile Trip Through Western States in Summer

Prof. John B. McHarg, head of the college department of American history, is looking for a companion for a summer motoring trip including points as far west as Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Prof. McHarg will lecture at several of the western colleges and universities during the trip.

He expects to leave Appleton on Saturday, June 13. His first lecture will be at Yankton college, South Dakota, and he will drive from there to the University of Omaha, where he will spend one week. The next stop will be at the State Teachers' College at Emporia, Kansas, the lecturing tour concluding at the University of Oklahoma at Norman, about August 1.

After the lecturing tour, Dr. McHarg plans to visit the outstanding beauty spots of the west. He will drive through Texas to New Mexico and Arizona, visiting the Chaco and Chelly Canyons and Grand Canyon of the Colorado. He hopes to camp for a few days in some of the interesting pueblos.

Later the route will take him to the Mesa Verde National park of Colorado, the location of the ruins of

COMPLETE SPRAYING OF COUNTY ORCHARDS

First spraying of orchards of the county for 1925 was completed this week, according to R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent. The second spraying takes place when the petals begin to come up on the blossoms and the last one occurs later in the summer. Mr. Amundson said.

Mr. Amundson has received dozens of calls from county fruit raisers concerning the spraying solution to use. The correct solution is a mixture of water, arsenate of lead and lime sulphate in the proportion of one pound of arsenate and two and one half pounds of sulphite to a gallon of water.

STAGE AND SCREEN

BUCK JONES FIGHTER IN "WINNER TAKE ALL"

It's a "wow," as they say on the Rio. It's more than that. It's like a machine-gun bark, a rapid-fire succession of yows. That's Buck Jones in "Winner Take All," the newest William Fox star offering which opened at the New Bijou Theatre.

Buck Jones, alias Perry Blair, "busted" cowboy, seedy and jobless, busts the dapper swell of a ranch superintendent on the nose for cruelty to the latter's ill boss. It's one of the roughest, toughest western scraps ever screened. Buck wins.

The cowboy, though green to the squared ring, takes on the local heavyweight champ for 20 "bucks" and knocks him out in the first round. But first he puts to sleep with one wallop the big fat fight promoter whom he catches insulting a little eastern girl at the station.

Then the cowboy pugilist fights his way east to championship fame. But won't agree to a crooked fight; so the promoters that made him "break" him.

After falling passionately for a princess of night life, who prefers to play a millionaire for a percentage split with life, the "busted" champ is lured into a framed championship match, "Winner Take All," which is probably the greatest screen prize fight ever shown.

CALLED "NATURALLY RESENTFUL"

"Miss Lusk is of a nervous, excitable temperament and she found confinement irksome. She considered herself better than the average woman prisoner and could not adjust herself to the companionship of the others. She was naturally resentful. The charges she makes are flat and ridiculous. They do not affect me but, knowing those who preceded me at this institution, I can say that I do not credit them."

"LADY OF THE NIGHT"

Norma Shearer, in the anti role of a debutante and of a dance hall queen, in Monta Bell's new picture, "Lady of the Night," is showing at the Elite theatre for the last time tonight. This Metro-Goldwyn release is one of the best of the season; a picture that tells an exciting story of the lives of a judge's daughter and a convict's daughter with realistic and thrilling detail.

NO SUB-TITLES USED

From time immemorial, ever since the motion picture became an established industry, critics and patrons have complained that sub-titles detract from the picture—that these printed words are an expression of literature and not of true art. Attempts have been made in this country to obviate the seeming deficiency, but not with sufficient success.

cess to overthrow the time honored rule and practice.

Now comes a production from across the sea—"The Last Laugh"—which carries no subtitles and is hailed as a remarkable success by the release reviewers. The characterization and plot are so easily understood that there seems to be no necessity for explanatory titles. The story is told forcibly and progressively. The acting and the direction are done so well that titles are not needed.

"The Last Laugh" is a Murnau production by Carl Mayer, author of the sensation, "Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," and starring Emil Jannings. It will play at the Elite theatre Saturday and Sunday.

GRIFFITH FURNISHES MANY LAUGHS IN "FORTY WINKS"

Lord Algernon Cholmondeley—That's an awful name for anyone to have to go through life with and Raymond Griffith couldn't even stand it for a motion picture so he cut it short to Chumley for his characterization of a titled English gentleman in the new Paramount picture, "Forty Winks," due at the Appleton theatre on Monday. Griffith is featured with Viola Dana and Theodore Roberts in the picture which was directed by Paul Irlbe and Frank Urson.

Some of the picture's biggest laughs—and greatest thrills for that matter—are contained in water scenes wherein Griffith put over some great stuff in a speed boat. Here's where Ray's training as a sailor proved a big help. Griffith has long been the owner of a combination sailing and power yacht and his insight into nautical affairs is second only to old man Neptune himself.

And when his horse, which he had just ridden over the steeplechase course, sits down on the edge of a back and is soon playing among the swans and water lilies! Here's a real laugh!

THE PASSING SHOW

According to advance reports, the biggest and most costly Winter Garden attraction ever sent on tour opens at the Appleton Theatre Wednesday May 22.

Such is the claim made for the New York Winter Garden's annual revue, "The Passing Show." It is the eleventh of the series, the first being produced in 1912. It has twenty-eight colossal scenes, thousands of costumes, and twenty-five odd musical numbers, not overlooking two surprising spectacular effects, "The Living Chandelier" and the French Revolution. The artists who will appear are an exceptionally capable company headed by Georgie Price, Margaret Green, and Brendel and Bert, supported by Vera Ross, Perry Askam, Jan Moore, Wm. Fringle, Louise Blakely, James Hamilton, Ann Low, Edgeworth, Edgar Atchison-Ely, Jack Hall, Bob Gilbert, Jack Rice, David Green and Frank Green, and a chorus of seventy-five Winter Garden beauties of various types. Besides being a spectacle of huge novel proportions, the revue is all its name implies, since all the important dramatic successes of the time and past are adequately set forth the merits of entertainment of one kind and another in these Winter Garden revues, that ne pauses to wonder how they are ever arranged to run so smoothly, gayly and sparklingly. Any attempt to adequately set forth the merits of this great amusement vehicle would appear fulsome—it must be seen to be appreciated.

GENERAL MILES, HERO OF MANY WARS, IS DEAD

Picturesque Indian Fighter
Dies While Attending Circus at Washington

Washington — General Nelson A. Miles, famous American soldier, dropped dead here Friday. Death occurred while General Miles was attending a circus performance.

The general had apparently been in the best of health. Mrs. Coolidge was attending the performance. General Miles was 86 years old, but despite his advanced age, he had taken on his usual interest in public affairs until Friday. When he started for the circus performance there was no hint of an impending illness.

The old Indian fighter was sitting on the third row of the circus stands when he fainted. Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, brilliant Indian fighter and one of the most picturesque and distinguished leaders in American military history, was one of the "boy generals" of the Civil War. At the age of 25 he had risen from the rank of first lieutenant of volunteers to that of Major General, and was commanding an entire army division of 25,000 men.

General Miles, who at the peak of his military career was Commanding General of the army, was one of the few high ranking officers of the regular establishment to attain his position without West Point training, and also enjoyed the distinction of being among the still smaller group to be honored with the rank of Lieutenant General.

From a clerical position in a Boston business house, he entered the army at the age of 22; participated in more than 30 of the severest engagements of the Civil War; was four times at the point of death from wounds, and emerged from the great struggle the possessor of many enviable citations for bravery and distinguished service. Continuing in the army, he fought and captured Indians on the Great Plains for more than 20 years; led the army of occupation in Porto Rico during the Spanish-American war; and although long retired when the United States entered the World War, he was ready and eager to participate once again in the service to which his life had been devoted.

It was the saddest disappointment of a long and adventurous career when, despite his best efforts, General Miles was not recalled to active service in 1917. He had been retired in 1903 upon reaching the age limit, but when the United States entered the European war, he asked to be sent to Siberia with the American troops. It was decided, however, that an exception could not be made in his case, hence his last military service was in 1916, when he presided over the Medal of Honor board which reviewed the list of officers and men who had been honored by the nation with that decoration.

PRESIDENT OF FRANCE NO FRIEND OF FLOWERS

Paris—The owners of the flower shops in the Madeleine district don't care much who is president of France, so long as he is married.

A bachelor president has no flowers sent him, they point out, and since M. Doumergue has held the position they have lost trade which they ruefully estimate at nearly 500,000 francs a year.

HEGNER CO. IS GIVEN CONTRACT TO BUILD BARN

Appleton Company Wins Over Numerous Contractors for Asylum Job

Hegner Construction Co. of Appleton, with a bid of $23,932.50, was awarded the contract for building three new barns at the Outagamie county asylum to replace those destroyed by fire last February. The contract was awarded the second meeting of the asylum board of trustees Thursday. The meeting was held at the courthouse. The Hegner company's basic bid was $18,380, but the board selected the James ventilation system and James equipment for the barns, which increased the cost.

The largest number of bids on such a project for some time were submitted and the similarity of the figures caused an adjournment without a decision at the first all-day session on Wednesday. Three members of the committee went to Oconomowoc to inspect a new fan system of ventilation in that city but they decided in favor of the old gravity system.

ELK BRIDGERS SLIP SKIDS TO GREEN BAY MEN

Lady Luck smiled all over Appleton's Elk bridge players when they invaded Green Bay Thursday night and they whipped the Bay Elks bridges by 4,609 points. Boyd and Massart, Appleton's star duo, played a mean game and topped first prize and Hanson and Garvey, also of Appleton, romped off with second place. Gribble and LeFebvre, a Green Bay pair, managed to sneak off with third place.

Twenty Appleton Elks made the pilgrimage and they were opposed by an equal number of Baymen, making ten tables in play.

Green Bay Elks accepted a challenge to a return match in Appleton on Thursday evening, May 21.

MEXICAN IS SHOT AT SUNRISE FOR MURDER

By Associated Press
Salt Lake City—Pedro Cano, Mexican, was executed by a firing squad at the Utah state prison at sunrise Friday morning for the murder of June St. Clair at Park City, Utah, March 15, 1923. He was shot at 6:12 a. m. and pronounced dead 3 minutes and 48 seconds later.

Cano went to his death protesting his innocence and repeating that Miss St. Clair was stabbed by Mr. Refugio Alameda, who fled soon after the crime and was never apprehended.

REGARD CHECK ON ARMS AS HELP FOR TYRANTS

ment, the embargo on arms has been let down so that a particular faction could be aided.

Under the proposed Geneva treaty no such choice could be made and the American government in the past conceivably would have had to refuse to ship any arms into Mexico when the government of Porfirio Diaz was in power and when certain other dictators had so far overreached themselves as to cause nationwide discontent and unrest.

CLAIMED RIGHT

The department of state in the last hundred years has always felt that it had the right to express its sympathy with liberal movements in all parts of the world. In some instances this has led to direct recognition of a government even before it had won its revolution.

The United States government since then has been guided by a law passed by congress in 1912 whereby the executive had the power to refuse to permit arms to be exported to any country in which a condition of domestic violence existed or to permit arms to be shipped to whichever side seemed to represent the popular will.

What is sought, of course is a treaty that will prevent the shipment of arms to countries so that revolution may be fomented and not so much to prohibit shipments where a well-defined movement has been begun and seems to be likely to succeed. If, however, the arms traffic is to be strictly controlled by all the principal munition-producing countries it will be difficult for rebel movements to get started though in some cases as in Mexico the process sometimes is mutiny of the federal troops and a coup d'etat.

FARM AND CITY AGAIN TO UNITE FOR DISCUSSION

Chamber of Commerce Forum Also Will Take Up Question of City Government

Get-together meetings this summer with farmers will be continued by the chamber of commerce, and a change in the form of city government will be discussed at forum meetings next fall and winter, the forum and rural affairs committees of the chamber decided at a joint meeting, Thursday. W. E. Smith, chairman of the forum committee, presided, and 15 were present.

Invitations have been received from Walter Wiecek, Emory Meitz and other farmers to hold summer meetings at their farms. A program probably will be mapped out later, setting dates for some of these gatherings. The plan of other years will be followed, holding basket suppers and a meeting afterward at which there will be special speakers and discussion of matters which concern the business man of the city and farm.

Recommendations concerning the forum program for next winter will be made by the committee to the board of directors of the chamber at its next meeting. Among the topics it believes ought to be slated for further enlightenment and discussion are the city government, a plan for public parking, a sane tax program, milk inspection, farm sanitation, a union depot and a suitable garbage disposal system. These will not be projects for action so far as the forum committee is concerned, but topics upon which the public needs to be educated further, and which need more intensified consideration.

MILK DEALERS COMPLY WITH SANITATION LAWS

Milk tests made by Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer, showed that the majority of dealers here are complying with sanitary rules and regulations. Mr. Sanders applied tests to the milk sold by fifteen dealers in Appleton to show the amount of sediment in their product, and with two exceptions found the milk clean and pure.

A chart now being prepared for the benefit of the public will bear the names of every dealer in the city and will show opposite each name the sanitary condition of the milk. This will be posted above the desk of the deputy health officers in the council chamber of the city hall, and will be available to the public at all times.

WOMENS CLUBS HELP INDIANS IN QUARREL

Menominee Indian Reservation

Necopol, Wis. — Considerable unrest exists among the Menominee Indians over what size sawmill Uncle Sam should build to replace the great mill destroyed by fire recently.

Despite the announced intention of the government to build a two-hand mill, which would be substantially the same as the old one, the Indian advisory council of the Menominee will continue its agitation for a one-hand mill, an idea which has been taken up by the Indian welfare committee of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Indian advisory council holds that a one-hand mill would be able to cut all the timber authorized by law, would afford continuous employment to the men of the reservation without having to bring in outside white help, and could be operated at a profit. The old two-hand mill required considerable outside help, was shut down a good part of the year and was not a profitable investment for the tribal funds.

Mrs. O. J. Little, who made a survey for the clubwomen, will recommend that the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs bring pressure to bear on the Indian office at Washington to reverse its decision to build a large mill.

AWAIT WORD FOR FIRST TRAFFIC COUNT OF YEAR

The date and place for the first Outagamie-count traffic count for 1925 has not been set as yet, according to reports from the office of A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner. The count usually takes place early in June, but the county commission must await word from the office of O. C. Rollman, state highway division engineer, at Green Bay before action can be taken. The first count was taken on June 18 last year.

The traffic counts, about six each year, are taken for the purpose of getting a check on the number of cars which travel the highways of the county. Men are stationed on various highways on certain days from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. and count vehicles passing on the road.

RIFF WAR TO BE PROBED IN FRENCH PARLIAMENT

By Associated Press
Paris—The French action against the Rifians will have an echo in parliament after the Easter recess. Socialist leaders announced Friday they will interpellate the government and demand a precise statement of its intentions in Morocco, it was said.

Considerable significance attached to this statement because the Socialists have never approved the French course in Morocco. Government circles hear the Socialists will abstain from voting on the appropriations for the present expedition against the Rifians, thus giving the opposition a chance to exploit the cabinet's difficulties.

Freshen Up Old Kitchen With Paint

New kitchens in new homes are not always perfect. And old kitchens in old homes are more often than not far from perfect. It is sometimes difficult, even in this day, to convince your builder that you must have your sink 35 inches from the floor and all working levels equal. Soft linings for the walls, gray, tan or white, and floors easy to clean and comfortable to stand on, are also most advisable.

Old kitchens were not so compact as present-day ones. Pantries not so accessible, sinks and stoves not so conveniently arranged. Floors not so easily cared for. But though all these conditions prevail in your home, do not despair, for even simple changes often work wonders toward modernizing a kitchen.

USE ENOUGH PAINT
Paint is one important consideration. Walls should be finished with a good washable paint, to offer a hard, smooth surface to dust and dirt. Floors to be painted should have all cracks carefully filled in, should be well prepared for the paint and given a sufficient number of coats. It is poor economy to skimp on paint.

After the floor and walls, the next thing to consider is the kitchen arrangement. Kitchen cabinet, pantry, stove, sink and table should all be arranged to give the most service and to conserve steps. The stove, sink and all levels which are used for work should be the same height from the floor. The one exception to this rule is the table where mixing is done. This is usually a few inches lower than the rest of the equipment as it is easier to knead bread, roll pie crust, etc.

HANDY NOOK
Where a kitchen is unusually large it is often possible to utilize a portion of it as a breakfast nook. This saves space and countless steps by making it possible to serve many meals in the kitchen.

Sometimes in planning a breakfast nook it is advisable to arrange for additional light. A set of windows may then be cut into the wall above the nook, and it is well to consider here the advisability of more electric switches. A double wall plug convenient to the breakfast table makes it possible to use electric table equipment. And may serve for the electric iron as well.

A quick method of remodeling a kitchen is to install some of the standardized kitchen cabinets and cupboards which may now be obtained in any furniture store. They come in convenient sizes and are quickly set up.

The question of how far one should go in equipping and decorating a kitchen is usually a matter of individual taste and of family necessity. In farm kitchens we sometimes see pecking chairs, curtains, braided rugs and other things to give a homelike air. Other kitchens have the severe simplicity of laboratories, which in reality they really are; while the majority are a happy medium between the two extremes.

Adventures Of The Twins

"Now that Jack Frost has been scared away," said the March Hare, "we must get down to business. There is a lot to be done."

"What?" asked Nick curiously.
"Well," said the hare, "I have a cousin called the Easter Bunny who has to be told a thing or two. He never seems to know that spring is here until I tell him. Besides he may need help."

"May we help him?" cried Nancy.
"We'll see, we'll see," said said the March Hare. "Get on my back, both of you, and we'll be off."

So the twins hopped on, and the March Hare went loppity, loppity, off to the Easter Bunny's house.

Outside it looked like any other rabbit house, a little door under some tree roots.
But inside, why inside it was—
"But goodness! I'm going too fast. Nobody was inside yet."

The twins sat off and knocked loudly as the March Hare said to do. Then they heard a loud groan and a sort of screeching noise and after a long while the door opened and there stood the Easter Bunny in his pajamas and nightgown.

"How-de-do!" he yawned. "What's wrong? Is somebody sick? It can't be more than four o'clock."
"Nobody's sick," said the March Hare a bit sharply. "But about a million little boys and girls are going to be if you don't get busy and get your Easter baskets ready."

"Oh—oh that's it, is it?" exclaimed the Easter Bunny opening his eyes wide and looking around. "Spring's here, is it, and me not dressed. The very idea! Ha, ha, ha! No, no, no! You made a mistake, cousin. A million little boys and girls are going to be sick, you mean. If I do get busy and—"

"Talk! Talk! Too much talk!" declared the March Hare crossly. "You need help. We can all stay and play in it if you like."

"Never can have too much help," said the Easter Bunny jumping aside to let the visitors in. "I'll go now and get dressed."
And now it is time to tell you what the Easter Bunny's house looked like inside.

It looked like a candy store, and a basket factory, and a few other things besides. Barrels of green dried peas for the baskets, the yellow chicks and daisy dandies, and apple sugar, raisins, and big chocolate eggs and little chocolate eggs.

COQUE, OSTRICH AND OTHER FEATHERS ON NEW COATS

ONE VERY EXTREME MODEL IS THE BLACK ONE (CENTER), PHOTOGRAPHED ON MONA KINGLEY, THE ACTRESS. IT IS OF BLACK GEORGETTE CREPE WITH A DEEP FRINGE OF GLOSSY COQUE FEATHERS. VERY LOVELY, TOO, IS THE WHITE GEORGETTE COAT (RIGHT), WITH THE WHITE FEATHERS. IT IS TIED AT THE WAISTLINE IN THE FASHION SO APPROVED THIS SEASON. THERE'S MUCH CHARM IN THE ROSE COLORED CHIFFON COAT (LEFT) TRIMMED WITH SILK ROSES, OUTLINED IN OSTRICH FRINGE. THE SOFT OSTRICH ABOUT THE FACE IS A FLATTERING NOTE.

"Coque and ostrich and other feathers whose humble origin has been concealed beneath several coats of dye, drip and dangle from the new coats. I learned at my last visit to Henri Bendel's fashion salon.

"It is, to be sure, a very extreme style," Mr. Bendel said, "but a very novel one in a season that is comparatively standardized. Conservative women will probably not take up feather trimmings enthusiastically, but women who want something different find them very fascinating."

"We are using feathers almost entirely on summer evening wraps.

They give a lightness and airiness that fur lacks, and they are very attractive with chiffons and georgettes crepes."

"Never has so much attention been paid to the summer wrap as this season. This is because the lines of the evening gown itself are so simple that the gorgeousness must be implied in the wrap."

I noticed that many of these feathered wraps came in brilliant shades. There was one luscious red chiffon wrap ornately trimmed with red feathers. There were also brilliant green and blue feathers on coats of the same hue that would make all the tropical birds look to their laurels if they could see them.

A new note in summer finery, he said feathers," Mr. Bendel says, "is the new georgette fabric, so called because they are highly glazed. This comes in colors and in printed fabrics and is very smart if it is properly handled."

Colors, particularly the pastel shades, continue to be used extensively in preference to sadder hues. Apple green is a new entry in the race and is forging ahead rapidly. Blue in all shades is very popular, and bright red is the rage.

European fashions in that of dressing a small brother and sister in similar costumes.

BEIGE OR KASHA

Nothing will be smarter for late spring than beige or natural kasha.

QUILTED CAPES

Quilted velvet capes banded with fur are shown for evening wear and are very light in appearance.

CHINESE TONE

The straight collar of Chinese inspiration finishes many of the new silk frocks.

FLOWER EMBROIDERY

Delicate embroidery in pastel shades, usually forming flower designs, trims the new chiffon evening gowns.

VERY WIDE SKIRTS

Some of the newest black lace gowns have very wide skirts, plain bodices and draped sashes.

KNITTED GOLF VEST

The knitted golf vest is a new item of dress that interests the sportswoman.

LOTS OF COLOR

In printed chiffons the black background with highly colored flowers is often seen.

FASHION HINTS

SLEEVELESS JUMPER

The sleeveless jumper of velveteen in blue, orange or scarlet is very attractive with the white pleated skirt.

WHITE JARVIS USED

The lot of white georgette or crepe de chine is frequently seen on the new black satin gowns.

DULL GREEN FLANNEL

Flannel dresses in a dull green shade have long ties of champagne colored silk.

FEATHERS FASHIONABLE

Feathers are very fashionable on crowns. They are used as fringe, and one finds many coats with bands of feathers rather than fur.

WHITE SWANSDOWN

A robe of silver cloth has bands down the front and about the sleeves of white swansdown.

RED, YELLOW, BLUE

Russian embroidery in red, yellow and blue is used on jumper frocks of white linen.

BROTHER AND SISTER

A novel style that is copied from

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

Breakfast—Apple sauce, cereal, thin cream, smoked country sausage, creamed potatoes, graham gems, mince, milk, coffee.

Lunch—Cream of tomato soup, creamed nut roast, milk tea.

Dinner—Broiled halibut steak, potatoes au gratin, buttered cauliflower, radishes, rhubarb custard pie, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Of course, children under school age should not be allowed to eat the sausage suggested in the breakfast menu.

When making the tomato soup add 1 medium sized potato cut in thin slices with the onion. The soup will have a really creamy consistency without additional thickening and less soda is needed to neutralize the acid of the tomatoes.

A dish of stewed fruit and a plain sockle should be substituted for the nut soufflé suggested in the luncheon menu for children under school age. But the nut soufflé is so good and has so much food value or grown-ups that it is well worth keeping in mind.

NUT SOUFFLE

One tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1 cup chopped nut, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar.

Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly smooth add milk slowly stirring constantly. Cook until thick and add sugar and salt. Remove from the fire and add finely chopped nuts and yolks of eggs beaten until thick. Add lemon colored. Fold in the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff and dry on a platter with a wire whisk. Turn into buttered baking dish and bake twenty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with whipped cream sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

POTATOES AU GRATIN

Two cups very fine diced cold boiled potatoes, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon onion juice, 1/2 cup buttered crumbs, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, paprika.

The potatoes should be cut in very small dice. Melt butter, stir in flour and when perfectly blended slowly

Fashion Plaques

FOR EVENING WEAR

This elaborate headpiece may be of original inspiration, but it is very modern in effect. Tiny rhinestone bands outline the part and follow the hairline and are wound into the coils of the hair to stimulate a headpiece. This is equally effective for the bobbed or unbobbed, if the coils of hair happen to be the sort that are removed with hairpins, there is no objection to that. Naturally the sort of thing is not appropriate with any but evening attire.

add milk, stirring constantly. Season with salt, pepper and onion juice and bring to the boiling point. Add potatoes and pour into a buttered baking dish. Cover with buttered crumbs, sprinkle with cheese and paprika and put into a hot oven to brown.

RHUBARB CUSTARD PIE

Three cups sliced rhubarb, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup water, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, few grains salt.

Pour boiling water to cover over rhubarb. Let stand five minutes and drain. Put rhubarb into a smooth sauce pan, add sugar and water and bring to the boiling point. Add butter and flour stirred to a smooth paste. Cook, stirring constantly until thick. Beat one whole egg and egg yolk slightly and stir into rhubarb mixture. Pour into a dish lined with plain pastry and bake until firm to the touch. Beat remaining white of egg until stiff and dry on a platter with a wire whisk, beat in powdered sugar and spread over pie. Return to the oven for eight minutes to bake and color meringue.

The oven should be hot when the pie is put in to set the crust. Reduce heat to cook custard.

HOUSEWIFE WHO IS ECONOMICAL VALUES SALES

The welfare of the home depends largely on the methods used in buying food. To go to market with a well filled purse and where cost need cause little concern is an easy task. Almost any one can supply food for this home; the only demand made is that of quality.

But where the success of the home depends entirely on the careful, conservative purchases made by the housewife a complete knowledge of the brands of goods, together with the various grades of meat, poultry, fish, etc., is a necessity.

PIAN MENU FIRST

Again, the various foods must be selected with a view to their perishable qualities; for it will spell very poor economy to purchase a basket of tomatoes if only one-quarter of the basket can be utilized; or if the tomatoes are purchased to permit them to stand around until a large proportion spoil and are unfit for food.

Nearly all grocers have specialties that is, the grocer has special sales of certain products. The wise housewife will avail herself of these opportunities. Frequently from 3 to 5 cents may be saved on various brands of goods.

HOW TO ESTIMATE AMOUNTS

The caterer and the steward has at his finger tips the following rules. One can of corn will serve from eight to 10 persons.

One can of peas will serve eight persons.

One pound of potatoes will serve from four to six persons.

One pound of oatmeal will serve from 15 to 20 persons.

One pound of prepared breakfast cereal will serve from 15 to 18 persons.

One pound of flour will make two small loaves of bread.

One pound of flour will make 30 biscuits.

One pound of flour will make cake pastry for five pies.

One pound of flour will make about two and three-quarter pounds of cake.

One pound of flour will make about two pounds of cookies.

One pound of butter will cut from 40 to 60 chips.

One pound of shortening will be required for every 25 persons for cooking purposes.

One pound of coffee will make from 20 to 45 cups.

One-quarter pound of tea will make from 60 to 75 cups.

One-quarter pound of cocoa will make about 20 cups.

Ten to 16 ounces of sugar for each pound of flour used in making cake.

One pound of sugar will sweeten from 30 to 40 cups.

One quart of cooking oil will cook from 60 to 75 crullers.

One quart of cooking oil will fry 60 crullers.

One quart of cooking oil will fry from 60 to 70 croutettes.

One quart of cooking oil will fry 70 fritters.

The size of the article and the temperature of the fat control the amount of the finished product.

LOVELY Agift makes your skin tingle—and so does Jap Rose soap. Count yourself lucky. That tingling is a sign that its tonic oils have cleansed every pore to the very roots. Of course skin tingles—Health and Beauty.

51 COMMUNITIES SERVED BY POWER GENERATED HERE

Traction Company Lines
Form Network Over Wide
Area Surrounding Appleton

Fifty-one communities are supplied with electric current from the Appleton power house of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., which generates and distributes 65,000,000 kilowatt hours in a year. Most of these cities and towns are supplied with light and power, but several also have street car lines, and three are supplied with gas by the Appleton station.

Neenah, Menasha, Little Chute, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Combined Locks and Appleton have street car service, and Neenah, Menasha and Appleton use gas from the tanks here. Appleton uses approximately half of the power generated by the traction company, according to A. K. Ellis, general manager, while the rest is distributed among the other 50 communities. The chief consumers among the other fifty cities and towns are Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna and Kimberly, all of which use much power for their paper mills and other industries.

The lines of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. now are being connected with those of the Lakeside plant of the Milwaukee Electric Railroad and Light Co., and of the Peninsula Power Co., which extend from Crystal Falls, Mich., to Niagara, Wis. When this connection is completed, the combined area supplied by the three companies will be almost quadrupled and one of the most extensive power lines in the United States will be the result.

The Lakeside plant is one of the most economical electrical producers in the middle west, according to Mr. Ellis. It generates its power in a dam plant, while the Peninsula Power Co. draws its current from four hydro-electric plants. These are on the Menominee, Brule and Plover rivers, two being situated on the latter. The connection has been completed from Milwaukee to Plymouth, and the last connection now is in process of construction, which will link Appleton with Milwaukee.

The communities now drawing power from the Appleton plant are Appleton, Apple Creek, Bear Creek, Binghamton, Black Creek, Bonduel, Brinorton, Cecil, Combined Locks, Dale, Darby, Dundas, Fremont, Galesburg, Gilbert, Green Valley, Greenville, High Cliff Village, Hilbert, Hota Park, Hollandtown, Hortonville, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Laney, Lansdale, Little Chute, Little Chute, Mackville, Medina, Menasha, Mosinee, Neenah, New London, Nichols, Pulaski, Puffer, Reedford, Roseland, Seymour, Shawano, Sherwood, Shiocton, Stephenville, St. John, Sugar Bush, Twelve Corners, Underhill, Valentine and Zachow.

SPECIAL DELIVERY FOR PERISHABLE ARTICLES

Special delivery stamps should be placed on parcels containing perishable matter likely to reach the post-office of destination on Sundays or holidays, according to a bulletin from the United States postal department warning postmasters to that effect. This should be done to prevent the spoiling of the goods in the postoffice which would be likely if the packages were kept there over the Sunday or holiday.

When perishable packages arrive at their destination, when being stamped for special delivery after carriers have left the office, they are delivered as special delivery mail and the charge collected from the recipient, the bulletin states. Special delivery fees thus collected shall be accounted for as postage due. If the addressee refuses to pay the special delivery charge, the package shall be left and report to that effect made by the messenger, after which the postmaster is to take proper action.

HEAVY MORTALITY OF CHICKS SENT IN MAELS

Seven crates of day-old chicks were received at the post office for delivery in Appleton and the vicinity Thursday morning. A crate holds from 80 to 100 chicks. Most of the Thursday shipment was to replace chicks that died enroute when the largest shipment of the year was made recently. This consignment consisted of more than 1,500 chicks and in several instances only four were left alive in a crate. The shipment was made during the early hot period several weeks ago, and the chicks were enroute longer than is customary.

THREE CREWS WORKING ON COUNTY HIGHWAYS

Three crews of highway workers have been employed by the county since May 1 to put Outagamie roads in shape for summer traffic. One crew is working on Highway 13 putting tar in crevices in the concrete, one crew is working on County Trunk E and a third group is repaving culverts on County Trunk E in the town of Kaukauna.

Last year 454 persons were rescued from shipwrecks around the British coast.

ASSEMBLIES FOR BUICKS CAST IN OWN FOUNDRIES

Specially Designed Machines
Used to Assure Absolute
Accuracy

The Buick crankcase is cast in the Buick foundry. All the machining operations are performed on specially designed machines built to insure absolute accuracy. The crankcase is well reinforced with ribs to properly support the four large bearings for mounting the drop-forged crankshaft, which is made of special steel, heat-treated in order to provide hardened bearing surfaces and a tough material under the bearing surface to withstand the strains to which a crankshaft is subjected. The bearings in the crankcase are bronze backed and babbit lined. The drop-forged bearing caps are babbit lined, making a very rigid and substantial bearing construction. The front and rear bearing caps are held in place by four large studs.

The two center bearings caps are held in place by two large studs. The crankshaft and fly wheel are statically and dynamically balanced. The crankshaft is drop-forged. Machined and case-hardened bearings and caps are ground in a special grinder that absolutely insures accuracy. The crankshaft is mounted in the crankcase in four large bearings.

The detachable head simplifies the casting of the water-cooled surfaces around the cylinder walls and the valves and permits machining of the entire combustion chamber surface, thus insuring uniform space in each cylinder.

Into the head are fitted the large valves made of special steel capable of withstanding the most intense heat. The valves are made of special steel wire, self-centering at top and bottom, thus insuring a free, air-tight up-and-down movement of the valves. The valves are operated by rocker arms held firmly in the proper position by specially made coil springs that automatically take up and wear on the sides of the rocker arms, thus eliminating side-play.

These rockers work on a hardened steel shaft running the full length of the cylinder head. Oil from the crankcase is forced under pressure through this shaft and then into the rocker arms, automatically lubricating the rockers, arm bushings and valves stems. The push rods are hollow, with a hard-steel cup at the top retaining oil, which is forced to under pressure through the rocker arm shaft and rocker arms. This absolutely insures constant lubrication of the ball end of the rocker arm, which operates in this cup. The push rod adjustments are made at this point in a very simple manner with the aid of a small wrench and a screw driver.

Buick pistons are made in the Buick foundry on special machines that insure their accuracy. They are fitted with accurately machined and ground piston rings, insuring their proper functioning in the cylinders. The connecting rods are drop-forged, with babbit bearings attaching them to the crankshaft. The pistons are attached to the connecting rods by a piston pin which is anchored at the end. The piston pin operates in bronze bushings in the piston. They are properly weighted and balanced and contribute their part toward the efficient operation of the Buick Value-in-Head engine.

The crankshaft and pump shafts are of steel. The cam gear is made of special material, running between the two steel shafts, insuring greater durability and quietness. Balancing of the flywheel and crankshaft together with pistons and connecting rods, which are accurately balanced in machining, makes certain a smooth running engine. The engine arms are attached to the flywheel housing, eliminating the necessity for replacing the entire crankcase should an engine arm be broken by accident. This is another example of the completeness of detail that is found in the Buick.

Second-hand Automobiles,
Is Claim

One of the most important steps yet undertaken to protect used car purchasers and at the same time place the handling of such cars on a more business like basis is the announcement by Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Co., that operations under a company plan for delays will hereafter place a guarantee upon used Ford cars disposed of by them.

The Ford Motor Company is the first large automobile concern to take direct steps in the matter of used cars. Inasmuch as there are about as many Fords in operation in the country as all other makes combined, it is apparent that the action of the Ford Motor Company will exert a wide influence on the marketing of used cars and in improving conditions generally in that phase of the automobile business.

"Every used Ford car represents so much unused transportation and is of value to someone," Mr. Ford said in his statement regarding the plan. "The Ford dealer through his position and intimate knowledge of the car certainly is the best judge as to the value of this transportation—the best to determine to a price on the mileage the car may yet be expected to deliver—that's his business."

"With this advantage the Ford dealer is prepared to give his used car customers, benefits not likely to be obtained elsewhere.

If re-conditioning is necessary he has the work done by trained Ford mechanics using improved equipment and genuine Ford parts, and with these economies and advantages he is able to offer the used car to the purchaser at low cost and with a guarantee covering its mechanical fitness."

The plan becomes effective at once and places a guarantee on Ford cars purchased from authorized Ford dealers thereby insuring proper mechanical operation under ordinary driving conditions.

In assuming this plan to be carried out by its dealer organization, the Ford Motor Company feels that it is embracing an opportunity to be of greater service to those who purchase used Ford cars.

GRAHAMS FIRST IN PRODUCTION OF LIGHT TRUCK

Dodge Brothers Dealer Cites Performance Record as Reason

Official figures from Detroit for the first quarter of 1925 show that Graham Brothers rank first in the world in the production and sale of 1½ ton trucks.

In the 1 ton and 1½ ton truck fields combined they were surpassed in volume only by Ford. "The information may be surprising to the general public," said Mr. Walter local Dodge Brothers dealer, "but not to us, nor to those who are familiar with the performance of Graham Brothers Trucks and with their rapid ascendancy in the industry during the last three years."

"Their advance has been without precedent. There has been no more of triumph, no exaggerated claim. It has been a steady, wholesome growth, based entirely upon the truck's performance."

Less than three years ago Graham Brothers were in twentieth position. Now they are manufacturing trucks at the rate of over 100 a day, making their entire output through the Dodge Brothers Dealers. This alone and service advantage of a strong dealer organization, combined with the excellent merit of the truck itself, is regarded as one of the chief reasons for the rapid advance to leadership Dodge Brothers Dealers everywhere are highly regarded and their service facilities are uniformly above the average. Service is an exceedingly important factor in the operation of a truck and business men are not slow to appreciate the advantage of having genuine parts instantly available when needed. Graham Brothers attribute their rapid advance to the following four reasons:

1. Distinct price advantage.
2. Proven quality advantage.
3. Dodge Brothers engine.
4. Substantial character of Dodge Brothers dealer organization.

"Publication of this information regarding Graham Brothers first place in the industry," said Mr. Walter, "is prompted wholly by the belief that truck buyers are entitled to know the facts of the times. With the facts before them, they would consider buying the other equipment without first considering the reasons for Graham Brothers rapid advance."

Several other minor changes have been incorporated, all tending to improve the smoothness of operation. Only designs which are practical, and which have been introduced last summer, are continued on all models.

MINERALS PLAY SMALL PART IN BUILDING TIRE

Miller Engineers Look to Cotton for Strength, Rubber for Life

The inner history of a tire reaches back to the areas which produce the raw materials and is intimately associated with the condition of the land from which these raw materials are produced. The tire is a vegetable product. The mineral portions are only a small percentage of the whole. Therefore, the condition of the land, the taken in the production of the rubber and the cotton, as well as all of the other natural elements which make good or bad crops of any kind, enter into the making of automobile tires.

Miller engineers look to the cotton to give their tires strength and to the rubber to give them life. The cotton must be selected from areas noted for their excellence of cotton crops and the rubber from districts which have won reputations for uniformity of raw material.

Much of the excellence in a tire is directly from the soil. If either of these two great raw materials lack anything in life or strength it will reflect in the finished product. Therefore, the inspection begins at the source of the raw material and continues all the way through until the tire, from the last workman is passed by the last inspector.

Each step in the production of the tire must be uniform. The judgment of each worker in the process can not be relied on. All operations must be part of a predetermined scheme in which each step is not dependent on the judgment of the individual worker but on the skill of that worker to comply exactly with the plan of the master tire builders. This produces the uniform tire.

If the raw materials, rubber and cotton, are the best, if the compounding of the rubber for the treads and insulating of the cotton cords, is correct and each of the other steps in the tire construction is done in complete uniformity and balance, a tire will be produced which will stand all of the tests that good tires should stand.

It will have long life, produce many miles of service and will in that service wear evenly. In other words, this will be a Uniform Tire. No one part will give way before it should in relation to other parts.

MAKE CHANGE IN MOTOR, CHASSIS

Olds Motor Works Incorporate Numerous Mechanical
Revisions

Following its announced policy of constant improvement without yearly changes in models, Olds Motor Works has during the past year incorporated numerous mechanical revisions in the Peerless and chassis of the Olds Mobile Six. These changes have been in line with recent engineering developments, and have resulted in even smoother and more powerful engine operation.

Attention of low pressure balloon they has brought about a change in the steering mechanism so as to insure easy steering. At the same time the steering frame has been made lighter, so that the wheel can be set at the correct height for any individual driver. Spark control has been made automatic, and with the elimination of the hand spark lever, the hand throttle has been removed from under the steering wheel and placed on top and in the center of the steering wheel.

A change that will be much appreciated by automobile owners has brought about the elimination of the need for lubricating the clutch throw shaft bearing. This has been accomplished by substituting a compressed graphite bearing for the usual annular bearing, the graphite lubricating being self-lubricating.

The wheel base has been lengthened one-half inch, now being 119½ inches. The frame has been further strengthened by increasing the size of the rear cross members, which are completely covered and protect the main frame members in the cooling system at low water to enter at both the front and rear of the cylinder block simultaneously, thus insuring the same temperature at all six cylinders under all running conditions. Ample service has been allowed for water circulation around the valve seats and barrels.

Other engine changes include a modification of the timing system, which guarantees full lubrication as long as all remains in the well-oiled condition, and all remains in the well-oiled condition, and all remains in the well-oiled condition, and all remains in the well-oiled condition.

Several other minor changes have been incorporated, all tending to improve the smoothness of operation. Only designs which are practical, and which have been introduced last summer, are continued on all models.

STORAGE BATTERY CLAIMS INTEREST

Many Parts of Motordom Are Mastered by Necessity,
Others Ignored

In the great realm of motordom, there are units and parts galore—some we master by necessity, others we never want to understand. But the operation of the storage battery is one that comes home to our pocketbooks with a bang and most of us are anxious to know the why's and wherefore's of its care.

True enough, the storage battery manufacturer's job is one of supplying the largest and best battery for the price asked while you and the other car owners look for maximum economy in your battery expenditure—that is, the longest service to be had. Certain fundamental requirements must be complied with, however, before the question of cost can be even considered.

Your motor must be turned over under all conditions and in all kinds of weather—that's the first and most important requirement. The lights and spark plugs must be operated satisfactorily, once the engine starts running. Now, some engines require more electrical current than others, they may be heavier, have better compression, bearings fit tighter or the oil is cold and stiff. To meet these conditions, you have the choice of an eleven plate, thirteen plate and fifteen plate battery with plates of various sizes and the price depends upon the battery you choose but there is a minimum size which will answer your requirements. One smaller than that would be doubly expensive at any price.

The Willard Storage Battery Company of Cleveland, has always pointed out the economy of the "over-sized" battery for every automobile. Just as everyone realizes the convenience and ultimate saving in the use of over-sized tires, the same advantages apply to the use of an over-capacity battery.

CHRYSLER SIX DRAWS PRAISE FROM ENGLAND

Comfortable body and Excellent Motor Attract Favorable Comment

The Chrysler Six has caused as much comment in European motor circles as it has on this side of the water. The following is an article which appeared in "The Motor" (London, England).

"The six-cylinder Chrysler with its saloon body, made by the Fisher Corporation, is the most luxurious car I took one out for a short run the other day and was very impressed. In the first place you have a powerful six-cylinder engine, which it is claimed will maintain, with enclosed body and full load, a speed of 70 m. p. h. There was no opportunity of testing it at this speed, but I did ascertain that a speed of 43 m. p. h. can be reached on second, and to accelerate the car from 35 m. p. h. to 55 m. p. h. was a matter of a few seconds, with only a very light depression of the accelerator pedal. So smoothly does it run and so excellent is the suspension that 50 m. p. h. feels like 30 m. p. h. It glides along without fuss or noise. The hydraulic four wheel brakes fitted are a suitable counterpart to a high speed potential. I found them smooth in action and very powerful.

"Very few people realize the harm that is done by drawing dirt into the engine, mixed with the air particles of road grit, which not only act as an abrasive, causing wear of the cylinders, but also form a quite substantial proportion of the carbon deposit in the cylinder heads. With the air cleaner, as fitted to the Chrysler, impurities are thrown out by a rapidly rotated fan in the chamber from which the air is drawn, which means, of course, very much longer life for the engine.

"The oil re-circulator is a means of cleaning oil of its impurities and maintaining its viscosity. The oil, in the course of its circulation, passes to a small tank on the engine dashboard, and this contains a cartridge, renewable every three months or so, which separates the deleterious matter. I am told that after running one of these cars for 10,000 miles a sample of the oil was taken from the sump, analyzed and found to be free from impurities, while still retaining its viscosity. After the first 500 miles, when the oil in any engine should be replaced with fresh lubricant, as it may contain particles of sand released from the casting, it is only necessary to change the oil once in 10,000 miles.

"Another feature which struck me about this car was the finger-light steering. I demonstrated how it could be driven from one side of the road to the other merely placing one finger on the rim of the steering wheel. J. G. Junr."

CLAIM OF CURE OF CONSUMPTION HELD UNPROVEN

Patients Warned Not to Place High Hopes on Potency of Sanocrysin Drug

By Associated Press
New York—Sanocrysin, an alleged cure for tuberculosis, used by Holger Mollgaard, professor of physiology at the Royal Veterinary and Agricultural college of Copenhagen, Denmark, is described by the National Tuberculosis association as a drug, the claims for which as a cure have not been proven. Tuberculosis patients and others are warned by the association not to place false hopes in the "many highly exaggerated statements regarding sanocrysin that have been made by various people."

Dr. Linsly R. Williams, managing director, speaking for the association, stated that Dr. William Charles White, chairman of the committee on medical research, had been asked to prepare a report on sanocrysin, which had been presented to the board of directors. Dr. White says that for the first time it is now possible to review the claims of sanocrysin.

"The drug is an old one," says Dr. White, "a combination of gold and sulphur salts, technically known as gold-sodium-thio-sulphate. Professor Mollgaard used it on animals that had tuberculosis and found that it was an extremely dangerous drug, which produced fatal results in many cases. In ordinary doses, however, it is not dangerous to those who have no tuberculosis."

"Because of the nature of sanocrysin and its method of use, the regulations of the United States public health service require that a license be issued before the drug can be used in interstate commerce. A study of the claims of Professor Mollgaard with reference to sanocrysin is being made by the hygienic laboratory of the United States public health service under the direction of assistant surgeon general, Dr. G. W. McCoy."

"At the request of the medical research committee of the National Tuberculosis association, similar experiments are now being conducted by three other scientists on calves. If after the animal experiments are completed, sufficient evidence is secured to warrant the use of sanocrysin upon human beings suffering from tuberculosis, study of the possibility of such treatment will then be made under the supervision of one of the Danish physicians who has had experience in the use of the drug."

"In view of the serious danger involved in the use of sanocrysin and in view of the extended study now being made, patients affected with tuberculosis are cautioned not to be unduly optimistic in regard to this drug. No patient should discontinue the well known methods for the cure of tuberculosis by proper regulation of their lives with special emphasis upon rest, food and fresh air under competent medical direction."

"WILDCAT" PLOTS WORRY AMERICANS IN GERMANY

By Associated Press
Berlin—There is growing anxiety in American commercial circles doing business in Germany over the wildcat schemes promoted by unscrupulous brokers in New York, Chicago and other cities, who entice Americans to invest in German bonds and stocks of doubtful value. It is felt that these operations not only harm people of moderate means who can ill afford to lose the money, but that they also undermine faith in legitimate business undertakings.

Every day pathetic letters come pouring into the office of the American Chamber of Commerce here from men and women in the United States who have invested in worthless paper marks, or in securities of concerns that have long gone bankrupt. The chamber recommends earnestly that all such prospective investors investigate thoroughly before giving up their money.

IN MAY THE MOTH ARMY ADVANCES

Moths may be on the wing in steam-heated buildings in any month, but they are present in greatest abundance the country over from May to July and during September and October.

During these months they destroy thousands of dollars worth of property. They feed not only on clothing but also on carpets, rugs and upholstered furniture.

Moths can be controlled in any household by simple precautionary methods described in a free Government booklet which the Washington Bureau of this paper can secure for free distribution.

Read the advice of experts. Learn from this illustrated book the interesting story of this prime offender among fabric pests.

Our Bureau will secure a copy of this booklet for anyone who sends in two cents in stamps to cover the return postage.

GERMANS COPY U. S. STYLE OF FRAME HOUSES

By Associated Press
Berlin—Frame houses modeled up on American patterns are beginning to be popular in Berlin. A whole section of wooden houses, a sight hitherto unknown in large German cities, is springing up on the extreme west end of the German metropolis.

The Germans have heretofore ridiculed the idea of wooden houses. Anything that did not last through several generations did not seem worth building to them. But today economic necessity has driven them to study the problem of the wooden house. To their surprise they find that wood has stood the test of time in America, where there are houses dating back to Colonial days. They are, therefore, trying out the wooden house idea, which they find much cheaper than stone and brick construction.

Another housing idea that the Germans are taking from the United States is the two, three and four room apartment. These are designed along American lines and are proving popular in Berlin.

GERMANY FAVORS AMERICAN FILMS

In Popularity Vote U. S.
Movies Lead French, Russian, Swedish, Italian

By Associated Press
Berlin—American films make the strongest impression throughout the world, in the opinion of men and women regarded as authorities on the question of the film by Der Deutsche, a local daily. This journal addressed an inquiry to ministers of education, movie stars, stage managers, critics, movie playwrights, editors of film magazines, and movie censors in a number of foreign countries, asking them which of the 1924 films impressed them most.

Ranked according to the countries of their origin, the verdict was as follows: The first place was awarded to 174 American, 124 German, 35 French, 27 Swedish, 14 Russian, and 4 Italian films.

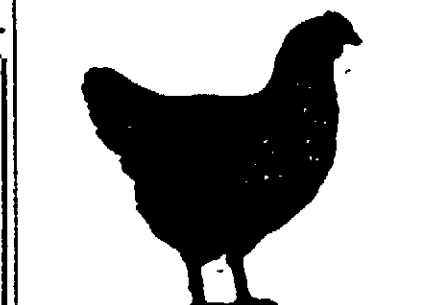

American or English films referred to by title and recurring frequently as favorites include "Down to the Sea in Ships," "Broken Blossoms," and "The Thief of Bagdad."

Mary Pickford and Alla Nazimova both voted first place to "The Salvation Hunters." Charlie Chaplin agreed with Conan Doyle in believing "Down to the Sea in Ships" to have been the strongest movie of the year.

Oil heat is here and Nokol brought it

Here a Nokol oil burner, one installed in a steam boiler, and the other in a water heater.

The success of automatic oil heating for homes dates from the day the Nokol combustion chamber was perfected. It is radically different from any other method of burning oil. In it oil burns with a clean, sootless, odorless flame.

The day of oil heat is here. Nokol brought it. The success of automatic oil heating for the home dates from the day 7 years ago when the first Nokol was installed.

The leadership of Nokol, established at that time has never been challenged. Of approximately 75,000 automatic oil burners installed in the United States, by 150 manufacturers, 22,000 are Nokols.

Nokol leadership has been maintained by the principles of oil combustion the first Nokol laid down. In 7 years not one fundamental change in these principles has been necessary.

Its operating cost is less than that of coal. It is also the best of our knowledge less than that of any other oil burner, regardless of the grade of fuel used. Nokol efficiency makes possible the use of good fuel at the lowest cost.

To make certain you will have your Nokol for Fall, act now. Call for one of our engineers. Or send the coupon.

BRAZIL SENDS ART STUDENTS TO EUROPE NOW

Government Gives Financial Aid for Various Branches of Education

By Associated Press

Rio De Janeiro—The Brazilian government believes thoroughly in sending deserving art and technical students to foreign countries to complete their education, and stands ready to give them financial aid to this end. Some go to Europe and others to the United States, but of recent years the lower cost of living in Europe has turned the tide in that direction.

The department of agriculture and the department of industry and commerce each select 80 students yearly for foreign study. A total of 130 students has been sent out by the agricultural branch, 51 of whom selected American colleges. The most popular American school is Southern university, at Baton Rouge, on account of the opportunities offered to study the sugar cane industry. The University of Illinois is second choice, and the University of Georgia third. The department of industry has sent out 65 men, but only 19 went to the United States.

Financial support is furnished for a period of two years, and steamer passage both ways is paid.

The School of Fine Arts, located in Rio de Janeiro, gives travel prizes to artists with exceptional ability in painting, engraving, sculpture and architecture. Two many go each year, if worthy talent appears. One is selected from work shown at the annual fine arts exhibition and is supported for two years, the remaining prize being given to a member of the graduating class of the school of fine arts, the latter, however, receiving an income for five years.

Travel prizes are awarded also to musicians of exceptional talent who graduate at the School of Music in Rio de Janeiro. One student is sent each year for a two years' course. All of these students have chosen Europe.

The school of Fine Arts and the School of Music are supported by the government.

THEN harken to the wondrous tale of 'Ali-Ar, the worker of word miracles! For, lo, 'tis as easy for him to talk smoothness and power and motor fitness into cheapened, kerosenish fuel as by his story-teller's imagination to endow the kitchen doormat with miraculous riding qualities.

And any child who has read his Arabian Nights or seen Douglas Fairbanks in the Thief of Bagdad knows how easy that is.

A thousand-and-one repetitions of a quality story does not make it true. And if fuel engineering skill can't find or put true gasoline explosiveness in kerosenish substitutes, it is beyond the power of painted publicity and printers' ink to create this quality.

"Wadhams 370" True Gasoline depends upon no Arabian Nights tales of forced and fictitious quality. It holds its first place in the faith and belief of motorists by its physically demonstrated rendering of true gasoline action. It starts naturally and easily without forcing or delay, explodes fully, leaves no harmful residues of kerosene and free carbon. Its power, smoothness and protection to the motor from the shocks of missing are recognized realities at every turn of the motor.

LEARNS NEW WAY TO RAISE SUGAR CANE IN MEXICO

American Finds Crop Can Be Raised on Large Areas
Without Irrigation

By Associated Press
Acaponeta, Nayarit, Mexico — William Dunn, an American, says he has demonstrated that sugar cane may be grown on extensive areas of this district without the usual necessity of artificial irrigation.

Mr. Dunn is manager of the Hacienda de Quimichit, a California-owned holding of some 85,000 acres located on the Acaponeta river west of this city. Growers say the discovery is likely to prove of economic importance. Production of sugar on a large scale without irrigation will save much money now devoted to pumping plants or gravity canals.

According to Mr. Dunn, there are hundreds of thousands of acres of extremely fertile river bottom lands lying wasted in the deltas of the Nayarit, which are capable of producing sugar cane without irrigation. This allows the direct penetration of the heavy rainfall of the summer, without the usual run-off. The ground thus is thoroughly saturated to a considerable depth, and a condition of sub-irrigation is found to exist. In the experimental planting he has obtained an average yield above thirty tons an acre within a year. The region is frostless, with a pleasant climate.

BREAKS ARM TRYING TO PUT BELT ON PULLEY

While attempting to replace a belt on a motor driven emery Tuesday, Joseph Kohl, son of A. C. Kohl, Grand Chute, suffered a broken arm when the arm was caught in the belt while the gasoline motor was running. The belt had slipped off and the young man attempted to replace it. The leather slipped again while he was working it over the drum, and catching his arm, broke one of the bones near his wrist.

The report said the shocks lasted for an hour, wrecking nearly every house in the city. One out of every 18 persons is reported dead over an area of six counties. Fire completed the destruction. If We Could Stamp Our Meat Like Silver

The stamp "Voecks Bros." would mean to all meat buyers, the same as "Sterling" means on silver.

Quality as fine as possible, is the reputation Voecks Bros. Meats have acquired. And if those same meat could be identified from the ordinary meat, no means of identification or distinction would be more fitting than "Sterling," or words that would mean the same, "Voecks Bros."

INDIANS KICK ON PLAN TO PUT UP BIG SAWMILL

Ask Clubwomen to Intercede With Government for Smaller Plant

Mrs. O. J. Kellogg, Seymour, prominent Oneida Indian leader, and John Collier, San Francisco, executive secretary of the American Indian Defense league, visited the Keshena reservation last week in order to confer with the Menominees in regard to the allotment question. Both appeared before the state legislature at Madison Wednesday evening to make suggestions for Wisconsin's policy toward its Indians.

Another movement in support of the Menominees has resulted from a letter received by the Milwaukee Woman's club from residents at Neopit. The Indian welfare committee of the club has sent telegrams to Senator Lenroot and Congressman Broome and Lambert asking their aid in protesting the installation of a two-band saw mill on the reservation at Neopit.

The letter from Neopit is as follows:

"The Indians up here (Neopit), must have help from the clubwomen in the way of letters protesting vigorously the installing of a two-band saw mill at this place. They have voted for a one-band saw mill, with a one-band saw, which can be operated by the Indians and will give them continuous work throughout the year.

"A two-band mill, which the interior department is forcing upon them, will necessitate hiring 50 per cent white labor while it is in operation, and then being closed a large part of the year—throwing the Indians out of work, and thus defeating the purpose for which the mill is being rebuilt."

APPLETON MEN ON CAMPAIGN BOARD

J. D. Steele on Executive Committee for Legion Endowment Drive

J. D. Steele has been named as the Appleton member of the executive committee of the state endowment fund committee of the American Legion, according to an announcement by George Vitz, Manitowish, chairman of the general committee in charge of raising Wisconsin's share of the $5,000,000 endowment fund. In addition to the chairman and Mr. Steele the executive committee is composed of Mrs. Theodore Youmans, Waukesha; vice chairman: W. H. Alford, Kenosha; Herbert Johnson, Racine; four members: Emmett Phillips, Milwaukee; Clark Everest, Wausau; Walter Schroeder, Milwaukee; and Judge Henry Graess, Green Bay.

Gov. John J. Blaine has accepted membership on the honorary committee, together with Chief Justice and A. J. Vinje, Madison, and Edward A. Birge, president of the University of Wisconsin.

Among the members of the general committee are L. Hugo Keller, George Baldwin, Appleton; Frank J. Sengenbrenner, Neenah, and F. W. Grogan, Kaukauna.

Cities all over the state are completing plans for local campaigns, and local chairmen have been appointed and dates set for the intensive campaigns. Quotas have been assigned to points throughout the state, and one third of the amount collected in Wisconsin will be used for the new legion camp at Tomahawk lake. Two thirds will be turned over to the national department, which will use the interest for the rehabilitation of veterans and the child welfare work of the American Legion.

OSHKOSH LIONS WANT NAME FOR "MAIN STREET"

A movement to name and "personalize" Highway 15, Wisconsin's greatest artery of traffic, was begun by the Oshkosh Lions club at a recent meeting in which the club petitioned the state highway commission to give the highway a name.

Attention was called to the fact that the lower concrete highway is virtually Wisconsin's Main Street, and that an adequate title, rather than a meaningless numerical designation, would establish a personality for the road and bring it the nationwide fame it deserves.

Names, such as "Badger Trail," "Badger Highway," or "Wisconsin Highway," were suggested, but it was believed that that end of the proposal be left entirely to the highway commission.

RESENT CHARGE OF GRACE LUSK

Prison Warden Angry Over Magazine Article Written by Former Convict

Wanpūn—Warden Oscar Lee of the state penitentiary here accepts the articles on prison life which appeared in The Atlantic Monthly under the pen name of Alice Thornton as the work of Grace Lusk. Mr. Lee declares the printed charges of unjust punishment, brutality, and vindictive cruelty on the part of unqualified officials in the prison are only an outburst of resentment by a woman who could not adapt herself to prison life.

"Miss Lusk's charges are utterly without foundation," said Mr. Lee in an interview Wednesday morning.

"The state prison is under the inspection and supervision of the state board of control, four-fifths of the membership of the legislative body has visited the institution at various times; we are always open to public inspection and invite it. If the charges of Miss Lusk were true, we could not last long."

KNEW HER IN WAUKESHA

"I knew Grace Lusk when she taught school in Waukesha. At the time I was connected with the industrial school there and, knowing her as I did then, I am not surprised at anything she might say. I was not warden at the time Miss Lusk was here, but if the warden she refers to in her articles was Warden Towne, everyone who knows him can appreciate how ridiculous the statements of a woman are."

"The matron referred to in the articles is not here now, but I have met her in another place and I can say that she is not the type to exercise the cruelty that Miss Lusk charges against her."

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat

Medical authorities states that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.
